Continuing Hunt Finds 257 Cong

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. Marines and free Vietnamese troops killed 198 Viet Cong and captured another 59 in the continuing hunt-and-destroy operations on Ba Lang An Peninsula near Chu Lai, a military spokesman reported Friday.

Another major strike by Guam-based B52 bombers, however, failed to inflict any serious losses on the Communists. The giant eight-jet bombers dumped hundreds of tons of high explosives on the hamlet of Phuong Xa Tay where intelligence reports said the Communists were operating a major communications center.

No Viet Cong

This correspondent accompanied U.S. and Vietnamese troops into the hamlet a few hours later and found it abandoned. A thorough search revealed either the Viet Cong had pulled out or had never been there. Most evidence appeared to support the latter assumption.

In reporting on "Operation Piranha," now in its fourth day, the spokesman said the combined U.S.-Vietnamese forces also had detained 265 Viet Cong suspects in the sweep through Ba Lang An Peninsula. The handy spit of land is about 20 miles south of the U.S. Marine base at Chu Lai.

The spokesman said the sweep had been directed against an estimated 2,000 Viet Cong concentrated on the peninsula but that most fled before and during the operations which began Tuesday.

The strike against Phuong Xa Tay, 60 miles southwest of Da Nang and about 350 miles north of Saigon, was the 21st against suspected Viet Cong stronghold in South Viet Nam by the Strategic Air Com-

Storm Passes In Vicinity Of Monroe

Tropical Storm Betsy Friday whipped through Monroe and Northeast Louisiana, leaving behind property and crop damage, with debris scattered about streets and lawns.

Telephone service was hampered, trees were blown down—some large ones being uprooted—and power failure reports were numerous.

No deaths in the immediate area were directly attributed to Betsy, but the storm was the cause of several minor accidents in the Twin Cities and area towns. Two persons were killed in an auto accident near Delhi Friday morning, but state police said the wreck was not weather-connected.

The storm, losing much of its power as it splashed through Northeast Louisiana, was expected to continue north through eastern Arkansas Friday night, touching west of Memphis, Tenn., about 6 a.m. today, reaching the lower Ohio Valley today.

FAA at Selman Field said the storm's eye passed through Monroe at 2:35 p.m. Friday and continued north. Barometric pressure recorded at 2:35 was 29.03, a rare occurrence here.

Rainfall Friday was measured at 4.34 inches in the Twin Cities. Bringing the month's total to 4.54 inches. The highest winds Friday were said to be 61 miles per hour at 8:40 a.m., with winds throughout the rest of the day at 24 to 40 miles per hour, calming somewhat after the storm settled down about 3 p.m. Winds blew in a counterclockwise and rotating direction throughout most of the day, becoming southwesterly during the late afternoon, according to FAA at Selman Field.

Crop Damage

Weather is a major factor in the success or failure in the production of cotton—one of the largest sources of economy in the Northeast Louisiana area. Friday's storm had various effects on area agriculture. Cotton crops were damaged and thirsty pastures were bolstered, due to the rains and winds.

Among the major agricultural damages reported were those of cotton, pecans, corn and soybeans. No immediate estimate on damage figures was available from farmers in this area. Typical of agricultural damage in the area was the report from Fred Huenefeld Jr., who cultivates some 2,000 acres on the Millhaven Road, eight miles east of Monroe.

Huenefeld estimated damage to his 400 acres in cotton at

Most Wanted Fugitive Dies In Car Crash

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Carrying an unexplained $22,000 in his car, one of the nation's most wanted fugitives crashed to his death while fleeing police at speeds up to 115 miles an hour.

Police said they chased Warren Cleveland Osborne, 45, Nashville, Tenn., along two-lane U.S. 31-E, 25 miles south of Louisville, shortly before midnight Thursday. His car plunged off the road at a curve and overturned six times, throwing him out.

Four packages of $100 bills were found in the wreckage. Police also found a .38-caliber pistol and an unsealed letter, dated Aug. 17 at Detroit, in which he indicated he might surrender at some time.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation, which had Osborne on its list of the 10 most wanted fugitives, said it had a warrant charging him with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution on a murder charge. Osborne disappeared after the shooting of Anna Corlew, a beauty shop operator in Nashville, 14 months ago.

Authorities said the shooting occurred when she tried to prevent Osborne from shooting his estranged wife, Carrie Dean Osborne.

State police said Osborne had written in the letter: "I promise one thing, that I will never in the least way harm another person."

India Suffers Battle Defeats

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India's hopes of a quick victory over Pakistan dimmed today. Battlefront reports said Pakistani tanks and infantry sent Indian troops reeling on a northern plains counteroffensive.

The paratrooper landings near Gauhathi and the attack at Baghdogra raised speculation of major clashes on the East Pakistan border, now that the Indian offensive in West Pakistan appears to have bogged down. A thousand miles of Indian territory separates East and West Pakistan.

Gauhathi served as a base for Indian forces opposing invaders from Red China who threatened the high Himalayan passes down from Tibet and reached the Assam plain three years ago. The big river port was considered under threat at the time but the Chinese suddenly stopped their drive into India and withdrew.

Reporting on Friday's action, the Indians said their anti-aircraft drove off two Pakistani planes that buzzed the recently completed Brahmaputra Bridge, the only rail and road link between the northern and southern banks of Assam's notorious "river and sorrow."

Fears of a communal blood-bath between Hindus and Muslims in West Bengal arose after a report from Calcutta that 350 persons had been arrested in the past two days for inflammatory activities. Among those arrested was a Moslem member of Parliament.

In Rawalpindi, a spokesman said "we do not appear to be closer to a cease-fire" after Thant finished talks with Pakistani Foreign Minister Z. A. Bhutto. An official statement, however, said Bhutto told Thant that Pakistan "fervently believed in peace" and hoped for the success of the secretary-general's mission.

After nightfall, an estimated 300 Pakistani paratroopers dropped east of Darjeeling in Assam State along the main supply route to Indian troops facing the Chinese Communists in the northeast frontier, an Assam government spokesman said.

The paratroopers landed between Gauhathi, a major port on the Brahmaputra River, and Shillong, Assam's capital, the spokesman said. Other Pakistani airborne troops were reported to have landed around Shillong and near Baghdogra, in Indian West Bengal.

Pakistani planes attacked a major airfield at Baghdogra earlier Friday, destroying two Indian planes on the ground, an Indian spokesman said. A U.S.-built Pakistani F86 Sabre Jet

Pakistan Holds Up Evacuation Of Americans

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States is still awaiting permission from Pakistan for the air evacuation of Americans in the Lahore and Dacca areas, the State Department said Friday.

Press Officer Robert J. McCloskey said U. S. Air Force planes are standing by in neighboring countries, including Iran, but clearance for them to land and pick up U.S. nationals is still under discussion with the Pakistan government.

Asked whether Pakistan was stalling the operation, McCloskey declined to comment.

Thant Ends First Half Of Peace Talks

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan, Saturday (UPI)—U.N. Secretary General Thant today ended two days of peace talks with Pakistani officials. A government spokesman said he did not believe they brought India and Pakistan any closer to peace.

Thant prepared to fly to Bombay for the second half of his mission.

President Mohammed Ayub Khan said in a speech today Pakistan intends to carry its war with India "to the enemy's country."

The tone of the speech supported the government spokesman's views that Thant's peace mission had done little to ease the crisis.

Depends on Plebiscite

Ayub made it clear to Thant that a cease-fire in the war is dependent on India's agreement to hold a plebiscite in disputed Kashmir.

Pakistan is confident that Kashmir's Moslem majority would choose Pakistani rule if given the choice. India thus far has refused to permit a plebiscite.

The spokesman said this was his impression at the end of Thant's mission. "We are nowhere near a cease-fire or peace in the subcontinent."

Ayub told the Secretary General that the war was "entirely a creation of India," the spokesman said, and was started because India had been preparing since 1949 to "digest Kashmir."

Ayub Khan's statement was contained in a message on the 17th anniversary of the death of Mohammad Ali Jinnah, former Arab League president and a revered Pakistani statesman and Moslem religious patriarch.

Dominicans Wonder About New Regime

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The way President Hector Garcia-Godoy handled his first serious crisis has many Dominicans wondering about the effectiveness—even survival—of the new provisional government.

The young president put aside with apparent discretion and firmness at threatening mutiny in the military ranks by ousting a controversial officer, Gen. Elias Wessin y Wessin.

In doing this, the president was believed yielding partly to the demands of the nationalistic sector that advocates a thorough armed forces shakeup, starting with Wessin's removal.

It was felt Garcia-Godoy came up with balm for conservatives and antirebels by retaining, at least temporarily, the old military chiefs in office.

A preliminary impression among critics on both sides of this divided city is that in trying to satisfy everyone the presi-

LBJ Tours Scene; Help Is Promised

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) —Hurricane Betsy swept into Arkansas Friday, leaving behind death, destruction and human misery. President Johnson declared the entire state of Louisiana a disaster area.

"This nation grieves for its neighbors in Louisiana," Johnson said as he left Louisiana, "but this state will build its way out of its sorrow and the national government will be at Louisiana's side every step of the way."

Seems Frustrated

Johnson made a quick tour of New Orleans and seemed frustrated that he could not do more to relieve suffering. He canceled a side trip to hard-hit Baton Rouge because of possible water on the runway.

Johnson flew to New Orleans with members of the Louisiana Congressional delegation and was obviously touched by the damage and human suffering wrought by the vicious storm.

"I just talked with the President in New Orleans and he told me the full force and power of the federal government is behind the state," McKeithen said.

Authorities counted at least 16 deaths in Louisiana, along with eight killed by the storm earlier in Florida.

Many were missing and the death toll in Louisiana was expected to rise.

President Johnson's plane circled over the stricken city to give the presidential group a look at the damage. When the plane landed at New Orleans' International Airport, the President said, "I have put aside all other problems on my desk to come personally to Louisiana."

Clear Away Debris

The President and the other officials with him saw a city already clearing away wreckage and debris and trying to get back to normal.

"I have come here to pledge the full resources of the federal government to Louisiana to help repair as best we can the injury done by nature," Johnson said.

The President rode into the city from the airport in a closed car with a police escort. He got a close look at the damage.

There were few people on the streets to cheer or even to look at the President. They were too busy trying to get back into business or to clean up their homes, many of which still were without electricity or gas. It was a sad sight.

Acres of the city were flooded at one time. Three thousand householders and their families were trapped by flood waters. Betsy, which killed eight persons in a sweep across Florida earlier this week, claimed at least eight lives in Louisiana. Three persons were missing in Florida, one in Louisiana.

Refuse To Leave

A late report from the devastated Gulf Coast said the Louisiana resort town of Grand Isle was 95 per cent destroyed. Some 81 diehard residents who refused to join the exodus of 250,000 other residents in Louisiana and Mississippi were safe at a Coast Guard station.

The little community of Shell Beach, on Lake Borgne east of New Orleans, was reported wiped out by wind and water. Its 350 residents were removed to safety Thursday night.

President Tours Stricken State

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — President Johnson, saying he is "saddened by the suffering and the damage I have seen," declared hurricane-stricken southern Louisiana a major disaster area Friday night.

The declaration qualifies residents of the area for federal aid in restoring the property left wrecked in the path of Hurricane Betsy.

After a two-hour personal tour of New Orleans — a city laid low hours earlier by Betsy's floods — and 150-mile-an-hour winds — the President promised all possible help.

"This state will build its way out of this sorrow, and the national government will be beside you every step of the way," Johnson said before boarding the presidential jet for the return flight to Washington.

Betsy left death, destruction and misery in its wake. At least 23 persons in three states were known dead. Property damage totaled many millions.

Johnson decided on a personal visit to the stricken New Orleans area during the afternoon — urged to make the trip by Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La.

He drove along broad Canal Street, where store fronts were shattered by Betsy's fierce winds, toured a flooded section near the Industrial Canal and talked with refugees at a grammar school.

Learning that many of the evacuees were without water, Johnson asked Mayor Victor Schiro to contact soft drink companies have them provide the refugees with something to drink.

Schiro, looking drawn and weary after directing emergency operations here for 24 continuous hours, met Johnson at the airport and accompanied him on the motor tour.

Johnson canceled plans to visit Baton Rouge, also hard hit by the hurricane, after it was found airport instruments there were not functioning properly.

Even as Johnson departed, massive rescue operations were stepped up for some 3,000 persons stranded in homes and rooftops of 300 square blocks of flooded zones of New Orleans. Some of the people have been marooned for 20 hours.

The President's big Air Force One arrived here barely an hour after International Airport reopened.

Stepping from the plane, Johnson said: "I am here because I want to see with my own eyes what the unhappy alliance of wind and water have done to this land and its people. And when I leave today to go back to Washington, you can be sure that the federal government's total resources will be turned to Louisiana to help this state and its citizens find its way back from this tragedy."

The President said he put aside all the other problems on his White House desk to make the sudden trip here.

"The people of this state have experienced a catastrophe," he said. "Human suffering and physical damage are measureless."

Johnson was accompanied on the presidential inspection trip by Sens. Russell B. Long and Allen J. Ellender, D-La., and four Louisiana congressmen. Long had called Johnson earlier in the afternoon and urged the personal inspection.

On the flight down, the President said he and the congressmen discussed "ways and means of putting the compassion of the nation in specific and helpful action."

Johnson said he flew over Louisiana and particularly New Orleans, seeing the destruction first-hand.

From New Orleans, the President planned to stop off in Baton Rouge — 85 miles up the Mississippi River — before returning to Washington.

The President's trip to Louisiana was set up on such short notice that White House newsmen accompanying him didn't have time to grab raincoats.

A wind-whipped rain, which hampered cleanup work during the afternoon, stopped just before the presidential plane touched down at New Orleans International Airport out of a dull gray sky.

Police activity in routine matters in the Twin Cities was relatively light Friday, although law enforcement officers spent a great deal of time coping with incidents created by the high winds and rains wrought by Hurricane Betsy.

The parish figure is expected to pick up substantially when complete totals arrive, officials said.

Calculations set white parish enrollment tentatively at 12,480, while Negro enrollment stood at 4,041. No school breakdown was available Friday.

In city schools, there were 5,321 white students, 4,949 Negro students.

Athletic Director James Corbett said every effort would be made to have the 67,000 seat facility ready for the Tigers' Sept. 18 opener with Texas A&M.

Corbett said the press box was "pretty well torn up, with some aluminum walls torn away." Goal posts were flattened, floodlights twisted and the scoreboards damaged.

Trusty, who was ticketed for reckless driving, was uninjured. The patrol car was heavily damaged.

Police activity in routine matters in the Twin Cities was relatively light Friday, although law enforcement officers spent a great deal of time coping with incidents created by the high winds and rains wrought by Hurricane Betsy.

Sammy Lee Wright, 22, of 1816 Adams St., Monroe, was arrested by Monroe police at 3:20 p.m. Friday at 1116 Jackson St. on a charge of trespassing. His bond was set at $360.

West Monroe police ticketed four persons Friday for reckless driving. They were Charles H. Gatson, 20, of 106 Grape St., West Monroe; Charlie R. Bonney, 59, of 202 Duncan Circle, West Monroe; Mary Coats, 19, Rt. 2, West Monroe; and Al Bertha Bridges, 54, of 509 So. 9th St., West Monroe.

Chester Franklin, 27, of 807 Bethune St., Monroe, was arrested at 5:40 p.m. Friday at his residence on a charge of aggravated battery. His bond was set at $210 by Monroe Police.

Carlton Yeager of 200 Mari-dale Dr., West Monroe, reported to Monroe Police at 7:40 p.m. the theft of a transistor radio from the front seat of a parked car at 300 DeSiard St.

Two persons were injured in separate minor accidents in Monroe Friday.

Juanita Graham, 17, of Dunn, was injured in an accident at 4:05 p.m. at the intersection of Texas Ave. and So. 8th St. She was taken to St. Francis Hospital for observation, but was not admitted.

She was a passenger in a car driven by James W. Graham, 21, also of Dunn, which was struck by a car driven by Hardy Goines, 76, of Rt. 1, Monroe. Police report that Goines apparently ran a red light and that the light was stuck on green for Texas Ave. traffic.

Fay T. Bunson, 60, of 2402 Gordon Ave., was injured at 5:25 p.m. on So. Grand near its intersection with Bry St. Police report she ran into the rear of a vehicle driven by Ardis Finley, 33, of 9C Hum St. West Monroe, which was stopped on South Grand. According to police reports, she was not taken to a hospital.

An accident in West Monroe at 10 p.m. Friday involved a West Monroe Police patrol car driven by Capt. Ray Wyles, 43, of 405 Lazzare Ave., West Monroe and a truck - trailer driven by Emmitt Trusty, 37, of Bowie, Tex.

Wyles was treated and released at Glenwood Hospital. According to police reports, Wyles was going north on Trenton when struck by the truck-trailer, headed west across the Louisville Bridge just on the approach to Bridge St.

Young Girl May Have To Face Murder Charge

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (AP) — Dixie Radcliff, 16, one of 10 children of an Ohio minister, may find out Monday whether she will have to face murder charges with ex-convict Donald M. Boggs, 23.

The girl and Boggs left Ohio on Aug. 27 after telling her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Pearl Radcliff of Amesville, that they were going out to get ice cream cones.

The parents found out Thursday that their daughter and Boggs had been arrested in Flagstaff after a string of four slayings in Texas, Arizona and Utah.

Authorities in Ohio said Boggs and Miss Radcliff met this summer in Londonderry, Ohio, where Boggs had been living with grandparents.

Boggs is charged with the Arizona murders of Halvor Johnson, 28, and Robert Willis, 23, both of Newport, N. H. Officers said he also admitted killing H. B. Flory, 59, of San Antonio, Tex., in Texas, and Warren Lenker, 25, of Elizabeth, Pa., in Utah.

A Juvenile Court hearing is scheduled for Monday for Miss Radcliff. It will then be decided whether she is to be treated as juvenile or adult in connection with the case.

Boggs appeared before newsmen Friday to voluntarily answer questions.

"I'm not sure how I feel," he said. "I'm sorry, of course, but that doesn't help now."

Boggs told the newsmen he had committed all four slayings and said he did it to "escape." He was released from a federal reformatory in June after serving a term for transporting a stolen car across state lines.

The clean-cut looking young man said he was wanted for parole violation because he had wrecked his car and didn't have insurance.

Boggs wouldn't say whether the girl was present at the time of the slayings. He said that he had held a gun on his last three victims while he also tied them up. All except Flory had been bound before being shot to death.

Miss Alabama Wins In Final Talent Contest

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Miss Kansas, a blue-gray-eyed brunette with a 36-23-36 figure, won the swim suit division and Miss Alabama, a coloratura soprano, took the talent contest in the final preliminary competition Friday night of the Miss America Pageant.

Debbie Bryant, 19, of Overland Park, Kan., a 5-foot-7 Christian College graduate who will enter Kansas University as a junior this year, wore a yellow swim suit for the final round.

Miss Alabama, Linda Sue Folsom, 20, of New Brockton, took top talent honors with her singing of "Caro Nome" from "Rigoletto."

She cried profusely as she and Miss Kansas made their triumphant walk with Miss America up and back to the 120-foot ramp from stage to audience.

There were 17 contestants in both divisions.

Sixteen other candidates competed in evening gowns. The results of this competition are never made public and thus add extra suspense in learning the identity of the next Miss America.

Friday night's talent and swim suit winners join four other girls who have won trophies for these competitions and have been assured of at least $1,000 scholarships.

Winning a preliminary does not necessarily place a contestant into the semifinals and finals which will be held Saturday but it does give the talent winners 10 points and swim suit winners 5 points toward that end. Placing first in an evening gown preliminary is also worth 5 points.

Points are also earned for second, third, fourth and fifth places in each of the preliminaries.

Typhoon Rakes Japan With At Least 39 Dead

TOKYO (AP) — Typhoon Shirley raked central Japan on Friday, killing at least 39 persons, then slammed into Hokkaido, the country's northernmost island.

Even with winds reduced, Shirley still had potential to cause more damage, already estimated to be severe.

Incomplete reports showed this toll: 39 dead, 21 missing, 727 injured, 883 homes destroyed and 3,798 others damaged.

The storm, the year's most devastating, rampaged across Shikoku Island and heavily industrialized southern Honshu before roaring into the Sea of Japan and hitting southwestern Hokkaido. Her center winds fell from 80 to 67 miles per hour as she hit Hokkaido.

Tokyo reported damage from fringe winds as the storm raced across the Sea of Japan at a speed estimated by the Central Meteorological Agency at 45 m.p.h.

The storm battered and sank many ships, mostly small fishing craft. The Japanese Maritime Safety Agency said incomplete figures showed 44 vessels sunk, 11 grounded and 14 others damaged.

New Orleans Goes Back To Routine

By TOM DYCARD

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Like New Orleans itself, the traffic light dangled helplessly in the wake of Hurricane Betsy.

The signal eyes stuck—the red light on two sides, the green light on two sides—the light swung gently, with a hint of menace, at the end of the wire.

Cars passed beneath it crunching over the broken glass, ignoring the stop signal, ignoring the threat hidden in the aimless swing of the crippled fixture.

The people tried to resume the normal life in this city of fun, where the name alone—New Orleans—is a way of life, a perpetual revel.

Mayor Victor Schiro called it "the worst I've ever seen" and said the city was moving ahead with the "greatest cleanup in New Orleans history."

In the French Quarter, the haven of the carefree, the showplace of girls who undress on bars and musicians who play their distinctive jazz, Betsy left a mess.

Along Bourbon Street, the day after found the girlie posters outside the strip palaces flat on the street—the girls apparently trying to cover themselves against the hurricane instead of uncovering to lure a customer inside.

When a storm named for a girl met a girl named for a storm, it was no match—Hurricane Betsy dashed to the pavement the poster advertising the charms of stripper Tempest Storm.

Fittingly, Lucky Pierre's Bar didn't suffer a scratch.

Broken bricks and crushed concrete — the litter ankle deep — blocked the narrow streets of the quarter.

Outside the quarter, where most of New Orleans lives and works, it was a day for going back home, going back to work — and trying to add up the damage.

Store fronts along famous Canal Street were a shambles — mannequins denuded by the winds, glass everywhere, the twisted remnants of aluminum awnings.

Leonard Gunsburg, manager of a downtown jewelry store, and his daughter, Clelia, 11, picked diamonds out of the debris in front of the store.

For another man at another jewelry store, it was a different problem. Police arrested Anthony Calabratte, 21, and demanded that he explain what he was doing behind the counter.

Throughout the city, people looked at their battered cars, moaned about a torn roof, tried to shove aside a fallen tree.

Women Seeking To Add Voters On Rolls Here

Officials of the Monroe League of Women Voters are looking for volunteer assistance in a survey to determine the number of eligible but unregistered voters in the Twin Cities, Mrs. Elizabeth Manhein, president, announced Friday.

She suggested persons undertaking to survey voting registration on individual blocks in the cities and reporting results to the league.

"This is a job that would help our city, our state and our national government," she said. "It is the league's desire and purpose that all citizens help us on this project. It would not take much time and the reward would be great."

Mrs. Manhein urged anyone interested in assisting in the project to contact her.

Institute Goal Is Excellence

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fifth, and final, article in a series on the proposed Gulf South Research Institute — a vital necessity in pushing Louisiana forward along the industrial path. Part of the funds for the institute are being raised by subscription. The goal for the Fifth Congressional District is $105,000.

By ROBERT SIMONTON
Staff Writer

Excellence — that is the goal of the Gulf South Research Institute.

Results in two areas will determine the degree of excellence — research on distinct scientific and engineering problems, and economic development studies.

First obligation of the institute will be to engage in studies designed to stimulate, to develop, and to further the economy of Louisiana.

It is expected that the various departments and agencies of the state government will be among the more important users of the facilities. In addition, the initial research undertaken by the research center will be involved with problems of Louisiana's development and growth.

Private enterprises, both large and small, will also be able to use the services of the institute to aid in their growth and expansion.

Two Categories

Projects in the category of scientific research, development and engineering are in two areas — those dealing with distinctive problems affecting Louisiana and those with broad scientific application.

Louisiana problem areas include the need for research in iron pigments in relation to the limonitic iron ores of north Louisiana; ceramic materials offer an almost undeveloped field in north Louisiana; the uses of rock salt, anhydrite and gypsum should be explored; and the volcanic glass in north central Louisiana should be investigated.

Considerable improvement could be made in methods of harvesting sea food from the Gulf and transporting it in suitable form to the markets.

Broad scientific applicability projects performed by the GSRI would be beneficial not only to Louisiana, but other states and industry.

Among these proposals would be research on insect pests, corrosion, water pollution, sugar cane technology, hydrology, sulfur chemistry and organic chemical services.

Growth of new home - grown industries could result from research projects into particular subjects peculiar to Louisiana. These include bamboo, commercial crayfish farming, dark roast coffee, peat moss, aluminum consumer products, plastic moulding and electronics.

There are a number of broad economic surveys and studies which can be made of problems affecting the Gulf South Region, as well as providing services to Latin American countries.

Location Criteria

The Gulf South Research Institute is presently located as a matter of convenience at Baton Rouge.

Selection of a proper site for the construction and location of the research facilities is very important to the success of the Institute.

A special committee has been named by the Council of Trustees and the Board of Directors of the Institute to make a comprehensive examination of site possibilities. Results should provide for the selection among several alternative recommendations.

Important criteria must be taken into consideration for the proper selection of a location for the institute. These include:

- (1.) Location must be near the industrial - science complex of the state.
- (2.) The institute should have ready access to the major state agencies.
- (3.) The institute should be within easy reach of the major air terminals and interstate highway systems.
- (4.) Location should be in the proximity of a university-oriented community, and
- (5.) The research center should be located near or adjacent to a tract of land suitable for plant locations.

All of these factors should be carefully considered before final site selection is made, because proper location is the five to 10 per cent, with "quite a lot" of damage done in his pecan orchards. Soybean damage was undetermined, with many plants blown down that might straighten up. Corn also was blown over badly.

The problem today, Huenefeld, president of the Ouachita Parish Farm Bureau said, will be draining standing water from the land before remaining healthy crops are scalded.

Other damage on the Huenefeld farm included a tractor shed, "blown 50 or 60 feet," tin blown loose from barns, and damage to the wing of one of three airplanes.

Huenefeld said 150 acres in cotton belonging to a neighbor was approximately one-third destroyed. "He had just defoliated and was ready to start picking Friday," Huenefeld said.

Minor damage was reported in Jackson Parish to pecan trees and corn crops, but the county agent, W. C. Abbot Jr., said the rain was actually more beneficial in his area than damaging. The storm did not hit as hard in that area as in some others.

County agent in Columbia, Donald Willis, said he made a brief survey of the crop damage in his area Friday afternoon and found the cotton crop was hit the hardest in the parish. Cotton, just beginning to open, was blown off or washed to the ground, he said, everywhere. Most of the corn was mature but was blown off. This can still be gathered, he said, though the gathering costs will be increased considerably. Pecans were heavily damaged, too, as trees were broken off and immature pecans were blown off. Some 5 inches of rainfall was measured near Columbia.

Buck Raley, associate county agent of Madison Parish, said apparently "there will be quite a bit of damage of cotton and soybeans which are not matured. The beans that are green will blow over and scald when the sun comes out. This could affect production slightly, and make harvest difficult."

Morehouse Parish agent, Raymond McDuff, said the cotton harvest there was definitely going to show damage, but the extent was not yet known. He said soybeans in his parish would be benefitted by the rains. Most of the corn in that area is mature, he said, and would be difficult to harvest if the wind damage proved extensive. In Franklin Parish, Thurman Morgan said some damage from cotton blowing to the ground first vital step in the institute's road to success.

The Challenge

This series of five articles has attempted to present an analysis of the economy of Louisiana and its scientific resources. A blueprint for the Gulf South Research Institute has been presented as a key to Louisiana's future.

This state has been endowed with abundant natural resources, but the better use of these resources and an effort to develop human resources through the research center will certainly contribute to the improvement of the state.

The Gulf South Research Institute is designed to meet the challenge of tomorrow - and its success will mean the success of Louisiana.

was expected and there may be some soybean damage. Although high winds and rain from the storm caused turmoil in the Twin Cities, things were relatively quiet on the police front insofar as infractions of the law were concerned.

No Monroe City Court was held Friday because of the inclement weather and no major accidents were reported during the storm hours in Monroe or West Monroe.

Fourth District Court, presided over by Judge Jesse S. Heard, was held despite the fact that electricity was out in the Courthouse due to a fallen power line. A number of cases were heard — even though the courtroom was dark.

The first night of local high school football activities was rained out by Betsy, and all games have been rescheduled, mostly for tonight and Monday night.

Utilities

W. E. Whetstone, Southern Bell District Manager, said that some 1,700 of the 47,000 telephones in the Twin Cities were temporarily out of service Friday.

"We were fortunate," he said, "not to have experienced more danger."

Service to the damaged telephone lines should be restored by tonight, said district plant manager, J. H. Snead.

Electricity was off in various parts of Monroe during the day, with crewmen still reported to be working on power lines late Friday night.

Spokesmen at Monroe Utilities Commission said as of late Friday night, his staff was still getting calls about lines being down. Scattered lines were down all over the city, along with some service wires. Transformer fuses were out and transmission feeders were out at various times, but crews worked rapidly to correct situations after the storm's passing.

Most inhabitants of the parish courthouse left their offices about 10 a.m. Friday because there was no electricity in the building. The utilities commission said this was due to a limb which had fallen on the power line serving those circuits.

In West Monroe, the officials of Louisiana Power and Light Co., said scattered lines were down, and the local crew was in the process late Friday of wrapping up the repairs. A few transformers went out during the day, but there was no major trouble reported in that area. Most power stayed on in West Monroe during the storm, the officials said.

Other Effects

Schools in the Twin Cities, both city and parish, opened on schedule. City schools were let out at 10 a.m., and some parish schools were dismissed at the same time. Some parents in the Twin Cities voiced criticism over the fact that schools were opened at all Friday.

A weather observation plane from Wright Patterson Air Force Base at Dayton, Ohio, was sent out in the area to search for the eye of Betsy. Panic-stricken residents of the Twin Cities called FAA at Selman Field to report "seeing" or "hearing" the tornado which was forecast through 4 p.m. FAA said the residents were not seeing and hearing the tornado, but were spotting the jet which was sent to look for the tornado eye.

The local American Red Cross Board met Friday morning to complete emergency disaster plans, should the tornado hit this area. Provisions were made in West Monroe at a trailer park for passing travelers.

Highway department crews were dispatched to clear fallen limbs and trees from often-traveled streets.

The rash of accidents usually accompanying rainy weather in the Twin Cities simply did not occur.

Sidney G. Martin, assistant chief of the Monroe Police Department, said he felt the cooperation of the area news media in cautioning residents to stay off the streets helped to keep down accidents.

"Also, because of the severe weather, people just weren't milling about the city as much as usual," Martin said.

There were also reported blown away. Johnny Mitchell, chief of West Monroe police, said damage on that side of the river was mostly minor.

The Ouachita Parish Sheriff's Department reported that two Negroes missing on Black Bayou since 4:30 p.m. Thursday made it safely to shore about 5 p.m. Friday.

James Lewis, 53, and Earl Mitchell, 60, both of 1725 Crawford St., spent the night and most of the day on the storm-tossed waters of the lake. Kirby said sheriff's deputies and members of the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission had patrolled Black Bayou Lake in search for the missing fishermen most of the day.

State Police headquarters at Selman Field reported late Friday that all roads and highways in Northeast Louisiana are open, but several closed in south Louisiana.

Following is the last report issued by State Police on the highway situation: Roads open to DeRidder and Leesville; open north of Opelousas; open at Lake Charles; US 51 open north on Hammond but closed south of Hammond; no roads open to New Orleans except US 61 from Baton Rouge; New Orleans Causeway, US 90 and 11 closed at New Orleans; La. 23 closed from Belle Chase to Buras; La. 39 closed from Orleans Parish line to Arabi; US 90 open across state; La. 1 open from Baton Rouge to La Rose; US 61 open from Baton Rouge to Mississippi State Line and US 190 from Baton Rouge to Texas State Line open.

Damages

Out in the area, damages to property were slight.

At Rayville in Richland Parish, power lines were reported down Friday, mostly caused by trees falling on the lines. Trees and limbs were fallen about the parish and some 5 inches of rainfall was reported during the worse part of the storm — from 10 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Winds had calmed in the area by 3:30 p.m., residents said. A shed on the used-car lot of Nichols Ford Co., was blown over into Highway 80, falling on a truck which was loaded with new automobiles. No damage was reported on the new cars.

In Ruston, electricity was out all over town at various times, according to the Ruston Light and Water Dept., and was particularly distressing in the southeast section of the town. No major damages were reported in Ruston or in the Lincoln Parish vicinity and schools remained open there. The highest winds recorded by Tech Forestry Station about 11 a.m. were at 36 miles per hour, decreasing to 25 miles per hour about noon. Sheets of rain fell mostly from the northeast, dumping several inches of rainfall upon the area.

Streets in low areas of Morehouse Parish were reported badly flooded. Schools were dismissed at 2 p.m. The worse part of the storm, residents said, came along 1:30 and died down shortly after 3 p.m. somewhat. Winds were steady all day long, though, and lasted on into the night. Some roofing was reported damaged in the area. K. M. Broomfield, district manager of the Louisiana Power and Light Co. at Bastrop, said his staff had been busy all day with fallen lines, mostly caused by fallen limbs. No damage was done to the major feeders. The Bastrop telephone company was reported in good shape, with a single breakdown of the cable reported. Some 4.38 inches of rain fell in the area. Only two minor accidents were noted.

Winds in LaSalle Parish reached a peak of 50 miles per hour about 6 a.m., accompanied by heavy rains which continued throughout the day. All parish schools closed down. The local American Red Cross activated shelters in most of the parish schools and in the courthouse and two churches. Some 500 people moved into the shelters during the early morning hours, anticipating the storm.

The eye of Betsy passed over the eastern portion of LaSalle Parish about noon, with no major accidents of damage reported. Some roofs were damaged.

The rains at Farmerville continued throughout the day and into the night, with a "good bit of wind," according to Union Parish residents. It had rained some 3.74 inches by 5 p.m. there. Trees were uprooted but

Two Groups Back Fire Protection

The proposed program of rural fire protection in Ouachita Parish, coming to a vote Sept. 28, received the backing this week of two parish organizations.

Fred Huenefeld Jr., president of the Ouachita Parish Farm Bureau, announced Friday that the organization's board of directors has gone on record recommending a favorable vote, while President Ford Pipes Jr. of the Ouachita Parish Bar Association reported that organization has done the same.

Meeting Thursday night, the bar association also endorsed the expansion and improvement of the Ouachita Parish courthouse, a bond issue for which

The farm bureau supported all three propositions on the fire protection ballot. The first would provide $250,000 in capital improvement outlay to build and equip four main fire stations, as well as equipment for six volunteer units. The second asks 1.35 mills for maintenance of a minimum staff of 13 men at the four stations, while the third asks 1.75 mills for a 43-man staff for the main stations.

The bureau did not recommend which of the latter two propositions should be favored by voters, but supported either.

Officials did point out, however, the possibility of spoiling ballots and explained that voters wishing the maximum plan of 43 men should mark "yes" on all three propositions. Those wishing the 13-man staff should mark "yes" only on one and two.

Health Of Our Cities

Cities, like people, are often plagued with illnesses and, like people, they need expert care in being brought back to health. In neither case, however, do we think government Medicare is needed. Private energy and private initiative have always been able to out-do government red tape in any kind of establishment.

In an exhaustive study, under the heading, "Our Sick Cities and How They Can Be Cured," in four separate, lengthy articles, Look Magazine shows some of the problems and some of the proposed cures.

Each article cited a particular city which had moved ahead mightily in solving its problems and in each case a single person or a group of persons living in the town was given credit for starting the successful movement.

Seriously Sick

One comment was: "Our cities are seriously sick but not hopelessly sick. Many of us are worried and some of us are ready to give cities up for dead. This . . . is about people who find them very much alive and people who are determined to make them better. The health of our cities represents one of the gravest challenges in the second half of the century."

Incidentally, Monroe and West Monroe, although not classed among the big cities of the nation, are towns which have maintained generally good health. This holds true in regard to criminality, morality, physical health, economics, spirituality and community thinking. The criminal rate is down low here, comparatively, and in the virtues listed our community ranks high.

Much - berated Mississippi, where federal interference has led to a great deal of rioting and racial trouble in recent years, was shown in the latest national figures on crime to have the lowest crime rate in the nation, despite a heavy Negro population. This indicates the South has been more successful than the North in preventing crime.

Some amazing facts in regard to city life and population were revealed. Astonishingly, it was stated that almost half the people who have ever lived in the United States are alive today. This seems almost unbelievable but that is what the figures show and figures don't lie.

John Peter, one of the authors commented:

"There has been so much talk lately about what's wrong with our cities that some people forget what's right about them. Our cities are sick and running a high fever, but the report of their death has been greatly exaggerated.

Mainspring

"The city has always been the mainspring of civilization. It was the city that nurtured the arts, the commerce and the political freedom of the Western man. People have always moved to the city because it maximizes opportunity. It is the escalator to a better life. Miserable as existence frequently is for the Negro in the modern city, he has no illusions that he or his children would be better off back on the farm.

"In the American past, the agricultural majority viewed the town with deep distrust. At the time of our first census in 1790, 95 per cent of us lived in rural places. There were only two cities with more than 25,000 people — New York and Philadelphia. "As recently as 75 years ago, two out of three Americans still lived in the country. But two powerful forces, long at work, were radically altering their world. The population explosion and the move to the city thrust Americans into a new age."

We are now a nation of 195 million people. Even with our decreasing birthrate, we should more than double in number to above 400 million in 50 years.

If cities are sick in some respects, they are not sick from want of population. Despite outpourings into the suburbs, nearly all major cities are showing population increases inside their own city limits.

One of the things that has made big cities cry out in anguish and that has made them admit they are "sick" is the great influx of Negroes, vast numbers of whom have moved from the rural South or from the small towns. This is something the Northerners had not counted on. They were willing to see the South bear the whole burden of lifting the Negroes up to the economic level of the white people.

Rebellion

When a hard - pressed Harlem policeman urged a mob to "Go home, go home," from the back of the crowd came the reply, "We are home, baby."

The core of the older big cities has become the home of vast numbers of Negroes. Even Manhattan, which once housed the elite whites of New York, is said now to have been engulfed by Negroes.

The non-white population of the United States has stayed at a fairly steady 10 per cent for 50 years but now about three-fourths of them live in cities, where they are more observable and more uncontrollable.

Big Northern and Western cities and some others are sick for a number of reasons, some of which are: The inflow of Negroes incapable of taking care of themselves can "digest" without intense pain; federal interference, which has made the handling of the Negro problem even more difficult; some graft and fraud on the part of some officials and some police, but police departments in some big cities have turned more toward attempts at honest law-enforcement and some of them are now operating on a higher plane of honor than the general public; exploding populations, which constantly make the task of law enforcement bigger; some apathy on the part of the public; failure of many parents to instill in their children respect for law and order and for property rights and failure on the part of parents to set proper examples; government-forced socialism and an accompanying downgrading of officials, local state and federal; and, to some extent, a decline in true religious worship, despite big increases in church membership. Traffic is a major problem in all big cities.

The Illness

On one phase of the illness of cities, some of the articles advance views that are contrary to our own. They contend that lack of fast integration is the reason the huge inflow of Negroes in the big cities is causing an almost insurmountable problem. Such attempts to lift the Negroes up to economic levels equal to those of the whites will barely ease the situation, if at all. Without the abilities they need, the Negroes are certain to be an economic burden to any community when their numbers are great. The South is fortunate that integration was not thrust down its throat before great numbers of Negroes had gone to the "Promised land up North." Now the burden is divided and the Northern cities are suffering the most because they are without experience.

The fate of our big cities is now the fate of our nation. If the atmosphere in the cities is too polluted for healthful living, the atmosphere of the nation will be the same. And the reverse is also largely true. If we solve the plights of the cities, we will solve the plight of the nation. If we solve the plight of the nation, we will solve the plight of the cities.

But let's try to keep individual freedom and free enterprise while we are doing it. Otherwise, we won't succeed.

Passenger Railroads Studied
Government Will Spend $90 Million

CAN RAILROADS be put back into the passenger-carrying business, and if not can another method of high - speed ground transportation be developed which can be made so convenient, economical and attractive that the people will use it?

To try to find the answer to this question the Federal Government will spend $90,000,000 in the next three years. It will be used to contract for demonstrations in intercity experiments as well as data, statistics and other information for the improvement of the national transportation system.

The public money for the experiments which Congress voted at the request of President Johnson will be used first in the East Coast urban corridor, running from Boston to Washington. Agitation for the experiments was begun three years ago by Senator Claiborne Pell, Democrat, Rhode Island. Pell disliked flying. Rail service between Providence and Washington was slow and otherwise uncomfortable.

Jobs Hewn Down
By Minimum Wage

Playing politics with the minimum wage law is one of the cruelest hoaxes ever foisted on the American wage earner. And now it is happening again.

Amid a fanfare of false promises, the administration is once again singing its siren song about raising the minimum wage, this time to $1.75 an hour, in order to help the poor.

The promise is a fraud. The principle is a folly. The whole thing is a fantastic exercise in deception and doubletalk.

A few things should be got straight about the minimum wage law.

First, it does not help the poor. It hurts them by pricing many marginal jobs right out of the market and out of existence. Thousands of honest and hard-working, unskilled people in this country would much rather have a job at $1 an hour than not have one at $1.75.

Second, extending the minimum wage to new categories of workers, as is proposed in the new administration move, does not enhance those jobs. Instead, it tends to imperil them.

The most numerous bloc of workers who would be brought under the new minimum would be employees of small retail stores. Applying the new and higher minimum wage to those stores is going to destroy thousands of jobs.

There is no evidence or claim that raising the minimum wage can create new employment: it can only destroy it. It may be fine for the relatively few who, although not quite getting $1.75 an hour now, are in jobs that can survive the increase.

"Then came she and worshipped him, saying, Lord, help me." Matthew 15:25 Keep looking up and the Lord will never let you down. Prayer changes things.

came rapidly. When it was voted on in the House just before Labor Day it carried 317 to 24. It had passed the Senate without a roll call.

The first two experiments in the 450-mile Boston-New York-Washington corridor are to be demonstration trains running between Boston and Providence, and between Washington and New York.

The New York to Washington experiment involves the acquisition for trial on the Pennsylvania Railroad of a fleet of new individually motored, electrically propelled cars incorporating advanced standards in riding quality, passenger amenities, and the rate of acceleration and braking and capable of speeds up to 150 miles per hour.

The experiment is expected to be underway before Christmas, 1966.

THE EXPERIMENT between Boston and Providence would be a 45-mile run, using gas turbine cars. But Representative Oren

"WE CANNOT," said Representative Joe D. Waggoner, Democrat, Louisiana, in supporting the bill, "forever continue to take literally thousands and millions of acres from the needs of this country to continue to build superhighways which are already saturated with traffic."

In the Senate debate there was considerable discussion of the new Japanese high - speed train put into operation between Tokyo and Osaka, a distance of 320 miles.

Admittedly the Japanese line is a transportation marvel. It runs through a corridor containing 40 percent of the Japanese population and 70 percent of its industrial output. But in Japan 75 percent of intercity traffic is by train, and only 6 percent by private car. Taking the train is the customary way to travel in Japan.

In the United States 90 percent of travel is by private automobile, and less than 3 percent by train. Another discouraging factor about the Japanese experiment is that the Tokyo-Osaka line is running a deficit of about 10 percent.

Senator Warren G. Magnuson, Democrat, Washington, thought that country-wide, the gas turbine, self-propelled car may offer the best hope. Senator Frank J. Lausche, Democrat, Ohio, who conducted the Senate hearings said:

"THE NATION'S critical intercity transportation problems require the application of advanced technology to high-speed ground transportation systems. By high-speed ground transportation, I mean the movement of people, and goods, by land, on special purpose right-of-way, along which vehicles are guided."

"The important characteristic of this kind of transportation is its capability for moving large volumes of passenger and freight traffic, while imposing relatively low requirements for space. Another advantage is its high reliability under adverse weather conditions."

Representative William L. Springer, Republican, Illinois said: "There is little doubt that fast trains can be created. The real question is whether or not a combination of speed and other service factors can attract large numbers of passengers. We need the benefit of the information to be gleaned from a practical test."

The politician who trades on the emotional impact of raising the minimum wage without regard for its long - range, overall effect in lowering the economic health of the nation is actually the wage earner's enemy. Everyone who works for a wage in this country owes it to himself, his family and his pocketbook to start facing that fact.

HEGYES HALOM, Hungary—This garrison town facing the Austrian frontier is a checkpoint out of Iron Curtain Europe.

It is my exit to Vienna, but only to re-enter the Iron Curtain at East Berlin. For the system not only bars the satellite people from the West. As we seem hardly to realize, it also separates the people inside each satellite state.

This horrible fence with its death-dose of electricity and mine fields branches off between Hungary and Czechoslovakia, Czechoslovakia and East Germany, East Germany and Poland, etc.

For example, along the hundreds of miles of the Czech-East German border, which Moscow calls "a frontier of peace," only two points exist where entrance is permitted. And with such twists and turns, and varying controls, this fence runs all the way from Hegyes Halom to Hong Kong.

By the mathematical fluke of having been born an American you can pass through the clamp here. But when East German, Polish and other satellite resentments reached a crescendo in the 1956 Hungarian revolution, 35,000 dead and wounded are the monument to this one country's effort to break the bonds.

THEY COULD only fight out of a sense of blind pride, out of desperation and hatred; they could not hope to finally win.

Thinking our aid was coming, and entreating it with indescribable poignancy, mothers of the Budapest freedom fighters stood before the American Embassy and sang "The Star-Spangled Banner."

Although our help was impossible and most Hungarians are intensely pro - America, the strain of this cataclysmic disappointment remains severe.

The traditional great links with us do exercise their gravitational pull. More Czechs live in Chicago than in any Czech city except Prague. An estimated 20 per cent of our population is of German descent. President Johnson's appointment of Postmaster General John A. Gronowski of Wisconsin as Ambassador to Poland currently re-emphasizes the Polish presence in our country.

In fact, if most of the satellites were free to do so, they'd probably get along better with us than they do with one another. For I've found them knifing each other in a constant intra-satellite battle royal.

Each Satellite State Separated

THE SLOAN that saturates all the satellites remains on an immense Solt billboard: "Forward to the Victory of Communism." But where are the results for the people? That the Hungarians can retain any spirit whatever is the astounding thing.

I sat for several hours talking with our officials on our Budapest Embassy's third floor, outside the door of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty.

BY A SENSIBLE State Department regulation no American visitor sees him — not even the then Vice - President Nixon and the sisters of President Kennedy when they were there — but our Embassy guardians see him nearly every day.

His Eminence, now 73, has two sisters who come often and sometimes stroll with him in the enclosed courtyard. Descriptions of his living in the Ambassador's office are confusing. Actually, it's a several - room apartment, airy and comfortable, built for the Ambassador before a residence was purchased.

From the day of his elevation to Cardinal, Cardinal Mindszenty has spent 85 per cent of his life in confinement. Yet Charge d'Affairs Elim O'Shaughnessy tells me that in spite of everything His Eminence has been through his health remains good, his spirit adamant and his interest in the contemporary world insatiable. He reads stacks of newspapers daily, the Hungarian and German papers mostly, the Vatican press and the Neue Zuercher Zeitung of Zurich.

The story of this Hungarian hero is in many ways the story of the Hungarian people I leave now at Hegyes Halom. Confinement of the body can never fully mean confinement of the soul.

Stock Listings
At Record High

OF THE TOTAL portfolio of stocks our family owns, all but two small holdings are listed on the New York Stock Exchange. This is a deliberate policy, designed to restrict our investment nestegg to the top corporations of the country, to give us maximum marketability when we want to buy or sell, to make sure that any transactions at any given prices in the stocks we own are immediately and publicly recorded.

Actually, our investment adviser frowns on even our two minor off-the-Big Board holdings, would prefer that our portfolio be 100 per cent listed on the NYSE or American Stock Exchange.

What has been our basic policy since we began investing years ago is increasingly the policy of millions of individual investors the nation over. Listing also is an accelerating trend among America's leading companies.

Today, three out of every five Americans investing in corporate securities are part - owners of companies listed on the Big Board. During an average week, around $2 billion of buy and sell orders are funneled onto the NYSE's vast trading floor.

TO DATE THIS year, 51 corporations have been accepted for listing on the Big Board, indicating that this year's listings will top 1964's all-time record of 64 and will bring the number of corporations listed on the NYSE to more than 1,250. By year-end the number of shares listed on the Big Board will reach the historic mark of 10 billion, and a conservative projection is that within 15 years the number will have more than doubled to 22 billion shares.

It's an accepted generality that NYSE - listed corporations are among the tops in the U. S. But behind this generality are rigid standards for listing which underline how valid the claim is. For the fourth time in seven years, the NYSE has just tightened its original listing requirements for common stocks and raised its standards for continue listing. To be accepted on the NYSE a corporation must:

Have a minimum of 2,000 stockholders and at least 1,700 holders owning blocks of 100 shares or more;

Have a minimum of 1,000,000 shares outstanding and at least 700,000 shares publicly held;

HAVE A market value for its publicly held shares of at least $12 million;

Have a minimum pre - tax income of $2 million a year and a minimum after-tax income of $1.2 million a year — and normally have met these income requirements for three years.

From 1955 to today, 491 corporations have met these standards and have been listed. Against this, though, 118 have been dropped for failing to meet the criteria for continued listing and 214 companies have been dropped due to mergers and liquidations.

Under the circumstances, it is understandable that only 1,250 companies out of many thousands have chosen to be and have been accepted for listings on the NYSE. Yet, while this is a small fraction of the public - owned businesses in America, it is an extremely powerful group of corporations.

In at least 30 different industries, the NYSE - listed account for more than 75 per cent of the total activity in the industry. In some — such as automobiles and aluminum — they account for close to 100 per cent of the output. As a group, the listed employ more than 20 per cent of the nation's work force, ring up 35 per cent of all corporate sales and revenues, have assets amounting to roughly 30 per cent of the total assets of all corporations.

The NYSE is the "big daddy" of all exchanges, of course, but there is a strong trend toward listing on the nation's regional exchanges as well. It's a good trend. The more that stock trading operates in full public view and under maximum supervision, the better.

Solons Seeking Aid For State

WASHINGTON (Special) — Sens. Allen J. Ellender and Russell B. Long of Louisiana said Friday they have joined Gov. John J. McKeithen in a declaration to speed emergency aid to Louisiana.

The announcement came as the senators, joined by Reps. Edwin E. Willis, Hale Boggs and Otto Passman departed with President Johnson for an aerial inspection of the Louisiana areas ravaged by the record-breaking impact of Hurricane Betsy.

The Congressmen announced that the Small Business Administration was one of the first agencies to act. It planned to open emergency offices in Baton Rouge, Alexandria and other cities to supplement the existing office in New Orleans.

Long pointed out the SBA has authorized disaster loans at three per cent interest for periods up to 30 years. The loans are available not only to small businesses but also to larger firms, churches, and many other non-governmental units.

They are not available for public buildings damaged by the hurricane. These are covered by programs operated by other federal agencies.

Ellender said the nature of the damage will provide new stimulus for congressional approval of hurricane protection levees and similar projects.

He noted that many Louisiana areas were protected from flooding — or saved from severe water damage — by recent works erected by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

A bill authorizing extensive addition for the hurricane levees comes up next week in the house. It is expected to pass overwhelmingly.

Meanwhile, the Agriculture Department reported it had dispatched experts from its consumer and marketing service from Atlanta and Dallas into coastal areas to help state and local agencies with emergency feeding programs.

Food distributed earlier by the Agriculture Department for the school lunch program was diverted for emergency use of refugees from the devastated zones in Louisiana.

The Agriculture Department also authorized emergency loans by the Farmers Home Administration. Similar to SBA program, the FHA provides three per cent loans for a period up to 33 years to repair or replace homes and farm buildings damaged or lost in the storm. Stocks of surplus feed grains are being routed into the stricken area. If necessary, they will be made available to farmers at reduced prices to maintain livestock. Restrictions on grazing will be cancelled wherever necessary to provide for stranded stock, the department said.

The Omnibus Rivers and Harbors bill, to be considered in the House next week, includes an $85-million authorization for hurricane protection levees along Lake Ponchartrain in St. Charles Parish and in East New Orleans. Boggs noted that levees protecting East Jefferson parish prevented a recurrence of the 1947 hurricane damage when 39 square miles were flooded to depths up to eight feet.

Northeast Will Have Water If Rain Adequate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson was told Friday that with hard work and adequate rainfall, the drought-plagued Northeast will have enough water through next spring.

The prediction, made by the President's Water Resources Council, was accompanied by a warning that communities must make "timely and prudent preparations for a fifth year of drought" in 1966.

The council, headed by Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall, called for continued "aggressive conservation measures" along with short-term emergency steps developed under Johnson's declaration of parts of New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware as disaster areas.

School Board

WINNSBORO (Special) — The Franklin Parish School Board at its regular meeting Friday voted to raise the salary of the principals of all the white schools within the parish and of the three Negro high schools.

The salary of the principals will be raised $100 a year.

The board authorized the employing of an additional fourth grade teacher at Wisner High School and employed Mrs. Gloria Etheridge as half-time secretary at Ward Three Junior High School. The hiring of Mrs. Margie C. Holloway, physical education teacher at Crowville High School was approved.

Three Crushed

RESERVE, La. (AP) — Three children were crushed to death and scores of other persons injured when Hurricane Betsy smashed the New Zion Baptist Church in nearby Gramercy.

About 150 persons were in the church, being used as a shelter, when the building collapsed about midnight. It was hours before all could be rescued from the wreckage.

TRUCK SPILLS MASH

FALL RIVER, Mass. (AP) — Two and a half tons of beer mash broke through the tailgate of a truck this week and spilled down a hill.

Historic St. Peter Catholic Church in Reserve and St. Hubert Catholic Church in nearby Garyville also were destroyed by the storm.

The dead were identified as Philomene Brown, 8; Alvin Gant Jr., 4, and his brother, Carl Evans Gant, 2, all of Gramercy.

Power lines and trees were down throughout St. James, St. John the Baptist and St. Charles parishes. Traffic was blocked or impeded by fallen trees and power lines.

The sugar cane crop in the area was reported heavily damaged.

Little Obsacle

BATON ROUGE (AP) — State Civil Defense Director Marshall Cappel said the aftermath of Hurricane Betsy should offer little obstacle to the 7th District Congressional vote today.

Secretary of State Wade O. Martin, Louisiana's chief elections officer, conferred with Cappel at the state emergency

Cappel advised Martin that the congressional district was only on the fringe of the northward-rushing storm.

The state director said that, in his opinion, voting conditions in the district should be good Saturday and roads would not block off voting machines into precincts.

THIS MAP shows the main destructive path of Hurricane Betsy through Louisiana from the Gulf to Arkansas. The heaviest winds and rain were concentrated in the shaded area, but effects of the hurricane were felt over a wide area on both sides. The center of the storm moved inland near Grand Isle, swept up the state and passed a little to the east of Monroe. (Staff Map by Frank Noonan)

LBJ Tours Scene; Help Is Promised

(Continued From Page One) sighted two men dead aboard drifting boats. Another man was dead aboard a third vessel, the Coast Guard reported. Mrs. Joan Mayeaux, 25, of New Orleans, drowned in floodwaters at Franklin Ave. She was reported carrying a baby nephew. The child was not found and was feared dead.

Crewman Lost A crewman was lost and presumed drowned aboard a sunken ferryboat. An unidentified man was killed by a collapsing house in Marrero, La. Two persons died in a two-car crash on rain-whipped U. S. 89 near Delhi, La. One man was found dead in a shack in storm-battered Baton Rouge.

Gov. John J. McKeithen surveyed the stricken region by plane as Betsy rolled north, its winds down to 50 miles an hour as it moved into eastern Arkansas.

The mayors of New Orleans and Baton Rouge asked that disaster areas.

"The (sugar) cane crop looks awful," officials reported in Baton Rouge. "The stalks are twisted in all directions."

For example, an $800,000 cane crop at the Angola State Penitentiary was believed wiped out. The 3,200 prisoners all survived Betsy unharmed.

A third of New Orleans was flooded and rains continued into the night. People trapped in attics and on rooftops in some flooded areas along Lake Pontchartrain were being taken out in amphibious vehicles. Boat owners were urged to join the rescue fleet.

National Guardsmen hacked through roofs to get at some families trapped in attics.

Almost 300 persons were known injured in New Orleans alone.

Torrential rains and winds caused damage at Alexandria, Jonesboro, and other Louisiana communities. Eastward along the Gulf, Biloxi and Pass Christian, Miss., were badly battered.

New Orleans withstood the brunt of Betsy and 125-mile-an-hour gusts for six nightmare hours.

People in the section along St. Claude Ave., waded through chest-deep water to safety during the afternoon, hours after Betsy passed, and appealed to National Guard amphibious "ducks" to rescue friends and relatives trapped in homes.

"We had to pass an elementary school whose second floor was jammed full of humanity," reported UPI correspondent Edward Cocke.

"Worse Trouble"

"We had to pass them up. Other people farther on were in worse trouble."

Chopping through the roof of one now-wrecked home, Guardsmen and Cocke brought out a man and wife and five children.

Across the street, a pregnant woman, three babies and an old man were almost in panic after 12 hours in an attic above the reach of the rising waters.

Small boat owners were asked to join the rescue.

Two other city areas were flooded and the lower regions of St. Bernard and Plaquemines parishes (counties) below New Orleans were awash with floodwater and mud.

Damage was in the untold millions and the Gulf Coast from the Texas-Louisiana border to Florida was declared a disaster area by the U.S. Small Business Administration. Government loans will be made available for rebuilding.

Cane Fields Flattened

Bashed buildings, shattered glass, roofless homes, toppled trees—many of them century-old oaks—flattened cane fields and automobiles tumbled like dime-store toys attested to Betsy's fury in a 12-hour nightmare across the Bayou region and the cities of New Orleans and Baton Rouge.

But as the hurricane veered inland, it lost strength and by midmorning was downgraded from hurricane to tropical storm with squalls at its center. It threatened to cause tornadoes in Mississippi and Arkansas.

It was headed straight through Louisiana to Arkansas and thence, said the weather bureau, to western Mississippi and western Tennessee. Winds were 70 miles an hour at the center, less than half Betsy's original strength.

New Orleans hospitals reported 276 persons injured, mostly cut and bruised by the storm that lashed the city through the night and blacked out all but 10 per cent of the homes and buildings.

Dies of Heart Attack

A woman died of a heart attack in a New Orleans shelter. A man was found dead in a shack at Baton Rouge, which was ripped by 110-mile-an-hour winds. Civil Defense attributed both deaths to the storm.

A sailor was missing and feared dead in the sinking of a ferryboat near Gretna, La.

A woman's body was being brought to shore in a boat at Perry, Fla., a possible storm victim. Three persons were missing in Florida and seven others were known dead.

Looting became a problem in stores with windows and doors smashed to smithereens. Police arrested five persons on looting charges in New Orleans and warned merchants to guard their properties.

Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. reported 350,000 phones out and 38 switchboards isolated in Louisiana. There were 2,000 telephones out in New Orleans alone.

At 6 p.m., EDT, Betsy had weakened by two thirds, winds were 50 miles an hour as the storm moved 30 miles north of Monroe, La., on a northward course at 15 miles per hour.

Eastern Arkansas braced for winds and rain. But winds would be steadily weaker, the New Orleans Weather Bureau said.

It would reach the lower Ohio Valley today with gusty winds and rain.

Boys Director Set To Attend New York Meet

West Monroe Boys Club Program Director Jack Sneed will leave Sunday for a four-week national Boys Clubs of America short-course at New York University.

On completion of the program, Sneed will become only the second boys club official in the state to earn the N.Y.U. credentials, according to Judge John McCormick, the West Monroe club president.

Lloyd Williams, executive director of the West Monroe club, who completed the course in 1964, is the other.

The course starts Monday, Sept. 13, and will run through Oct. 8. Sneed is due to leave from Selman Field Sunday afternoon.

Williams calls the work of the course "college level," pointing out that specialists in youth work, scouting, psychiatry, organization and programming make up the national staff assigned to instruction.

Sneed, 25, is a 1961 graduate of Louisiana Tech. A native of northeast Louisiana, he graduated from Byrd High School.

He served as executive director of the Bastrop Boys Club for two years, prior to joining the West Monroe facility in March, 1965. Sneed is married to the former Linda Walker of Haynesville, and resides at 105 Ozone in West Monroe.

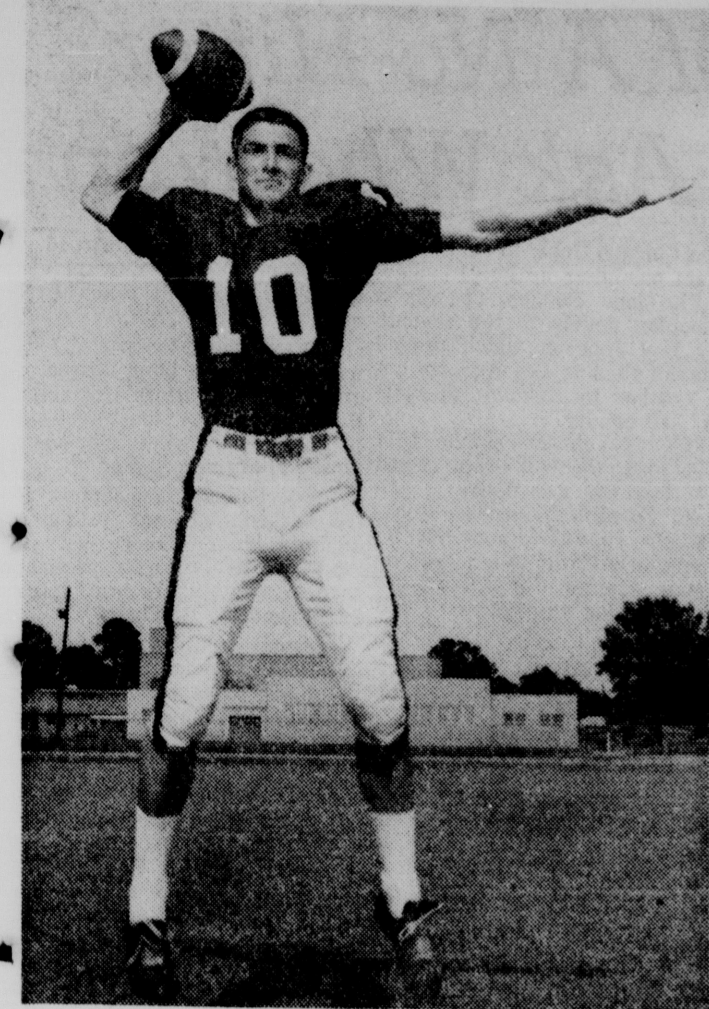

The national short course is a requirement for certification as a professional boys club worker.

THE ILL WIND that blew through the Twin Cities Friday on the shoulders of Hurricane Betsy brought some measure of good—at least for these small fry. RONNIE WIGGINS will lead the attack for West Monroe tonight when the Rebels meet Jonesboro-Hodge at Rebel Stadium. ## Hurricanes Meet Anxious Houston

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — 270-pound tackle Willie Townes, Bluebonnet Bowl champion Tulsa puts a six-game winning streak on the line today against ambitious Houston in the first football game in $31.6 million Harris County domed stadium.

Houston is a narrow favorite in the nationally televised (NBC) game that features a very light schedule for the season's first college football weekend. Montana at Utah and Hawaii at Utah State are the only other games involving major college teams.

The huge, air-conditioned stadium, home of the Houston Astros of the National League, was converted to a football field after a Labor Day baseball game. About 10,000 foul line box seats were moved on railroad tracks so as to parallel the football field sidelines.

The $2 million "exploding" scoreboard also was adapted for football.

A near capacity crowd of 45,000 is expected for the 1:15 EST kickoff.

Houston, beginning its 20th athletic campaign, feels it can improve last year's 2-6-1 record despite a schedule that includes such name schools as Mississippi State, Tennessee, Mississippi and Kentucky.

The Cougar hopes center around two young quarterbacks, Dick Post and Warren Mevea.

Post, a 5-9, 198-pounder, accounted for 528 yards last year, a school record for a sophomore.

Mevea, who had a brilliant freshman year while averaging 9.2 yard a carry, will be making his varsity debut.

The 5-9, 180-pounder speedster from San Antonio scored 591 points during his high school career and was sought by numerous major colleges.

Tulsa expects to be throwing again despite the loss of its great passer, Jerry Home, through graduation. The 1964 team compiled a 9-2 record, including a Bluebonnet Bowl victory over Mississippi, and Coach Glenn Dobbs has said this year's club could be as good or better.

The Hurricane still has its receiving ace, Howard Twilley, and the defense still is led by

Detroit Downs Cleveland With Stanley Single

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mickey Stanley ripped a two-run single in the fifth inning, and Mickey Lolich pitched a four-hitter as the Detroit Tigers defeated the Cleveland Indians 2-0 Friday night.

Lou Clinton, playing his first game for Cleveland, apparently had trouble adjusting to the lights in Municipal Stadium, losing Ray Oyler's fly ball and helping set up Stanley's run-scoring single.

Also on base was Bill Freehan, who had blooped a single over first base. Oyler got a double out of his fly to left, and both runners scored easily when Stanley slapped a liner through the box.

Grand-Slam By McCovey Breaks Tie

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Pinch hitter Willie McCovey smashed a tie-breaking grand slam homer in the sixth inning as the San Francisco Giants defeated the Chicago Cubs 5-2 Friday night and clung to their slim National League lead.

The victory kept the Giants one-half game ahead of the Los Angeles Dodgers and boosted their edge over Cincinnati to 1½.

Right-handed reliever Ted Abernathy had relieved southpaw starter Dick Ellsworth for Chicago in the sixth inning with the bases loaded, one out and the Cubs leading 1-0.

A run scored on Jim Hart's infield single. The McCovey, a left-handed swinger, came in to bat for right-handed Jack Hiatt and bombed Abernathy's second pitch to him over the right field fence for his 34th homer.

Ellsworth took the loss and now is 13-14.

Rookie Don Young's fifth-inning homer, his first major league hit, had put the Cubs ahead 1-0 off starter Ron Herbel, who won his 10th game against seven defeats.

Billy Williams drove in the Cubs' second run with a two-out single in the seventh inning off reliever Gaylord Perry. Frank Linzy finished on the mound for the Giants.

Pinch Homer Carries Braves Past Mets, 3-1

NEW YORK (AP) — Felipe Alou's two-run pinch-hit homer in the seventh inning made Jack Fisher the majors' first 20-game loser this season and carried the Milwaukee Braves to a 3-1 victory over the New York Mets Friday night.

Three Milwaukee pitchers—Wade Blasingame, Billy O'Dell and Phil Niekro—held the Mets to one hit—Jim Hickman's two-home run off Blasingame in the fourth inning.

Alou's two-out shot drove in Frank Bolling, who had doubled, and snapped a 1-1 deadlock for the Braves, who are in fourth place in the National League.

Betsy Rules Sports Picture!

By JIM MATHIS
World Sports Writer

A hurricane of the size and intensity of Betsy leaves little untouched when she departs.

Losses in terms of lives and property damage, are obvious effects, but Betsy caused disruption even in the sports world.

Louisiana high school football teams were substantially effected by the hurricane. Most of the Thursday night football games in Northeast Louisiana were played under no more adverse conditions than gusty winds, but the southern part of the state, which bore the brunt of Betsy's temper, saw virtually all the games rained out, or perhaps more specifically, blown out by the 100 mile-an-hour-plus wind which accompanied the deluge of water.

Rain-drenched fields were viewed by coaches throughout the state Friday.

Only three of 17 scheduled games in the North Louisiana area were played Friday night. The rest of the prep slate was either rescheduled or cancelled.

Reports from Bolton of Alexandria say that Betsy did no damage to the stadium or school and that the game with Ouachita High School is expected to be played without difficulty tonight.

Coach Peter Souls of Rayville said Friday that some booster signs had been twisted by wind but other than that there was no real damage at the field.

"The field is in pretty bad condition, and we plan to get out this morning and try to get some of the water off the field by digging trenches," the Hornet men-

About People And Places

AROUND THE SPORTS WORLD: The time of "strong-man" type descriptions is upon us, meaning football season precisely. Here's one that will be hard to beat: Murray Olderman, Newspaper Enterprise Association, writing on Texas' All-America linebacker Tommy Nobis, "Even his freckles have muscles."

And, speaking of the Southwest Conference—where Nobis roams every Saturday—writers across the Lone Star State were asked to predict the SWC race. Mickey Herskowitz of the Houston Post said it best: 1. Texas, 2. Arkansas, 3. Texas Tech, 4. Baylor. "The Longhorns haven't won since 1963, and they're due."

North Louisiana will be represented in the tough SWC race this fall in the person of Ricky Head, former Bastrop athlete who starred in football, basketball and baseball for the Rams. Ricky is at Baylor University on a football and baseball scholarship and performed regularly on both freshmen clubs last year. He then won a starting defensive halfback berth on the varsity in spring drills and will be testing his skills there next Saturday when the Bears play at Auburn in their season opener.

Baylor has several other sophomores who are listed as starters. One is Greg Pipes, a 5-11, 230-pound defensive guard. It seems one of his greatest assets is the quickness of his hands. Baylor assistant Catfish Smith said of him: "He's got the fastest hands in the league, as fast as Scott Appleton's." Pipes is appreciative of the compliment, but it has caused him some embarrassment on the Baylor campus. Says Greg: "Seems like every time I'm walking along with a girl we run into somebody on the squad, and I know what's coming. 'Better watch that boy,' they'll tell her. He's got faster hands than Scott Appleton."

The Aging Process

From Sports Illustrated come a couple of dillies.

Dr. Phog Allen, 79-year-old retired basketball coach at the University of Kansas, on the aging process: "You're not old until it takes you longer to rest up than it does to get tired."

And, Pepper Wilson, Cincinnati Royals' general manager, on the Boston Celtics' sure domination of professional basketball: "Sure Red Auerbach makes mistakes, the entire Boston team makes mistakes, but they can get away with it because they have the world's largest eraser in Bill Russell."

Lineman Roosevelt Grier of the Los Angeles Rams, a mere lad of over 300-pounds, ballooned to 330 pounds last spring so he went on a crash diet and managed to lose down to 299; then, however, he suddenly shot back up to 312. His explanation: "I kept taking that Metrecal and I got to liking it so much I started drinking it with all my meals and even with a few snacks."

It seems a young writer was interviewing a former major leaguer at one of the recent Old-Timers games and asked him how much he thought Ty Cobb would hit in today's type of game with the "live ball" and superior playing conditions. The old-timer quickly replied, "Oh, about 330." The writer was somewhat astonished. "You mean that's all you think Cobb, the greatest hitter of all time, could hit today?" And very deadpanned, the old-timer said casually, "Yes, but then he would be 70-years-old now." Food for thought, wouldn't you say.

Alabama Small Again

Here's a fact we bet you didn't know: Alabama, expected again to be one of the nation's best football teams, has only nine linemen and two backs on its roster who weigh more than 200 pounds — and none weigh as much as 220. The heaviest is a sophomore tackle, Baker Davis, who tips the scales at 218. And of the nine 200-plus linemen, six weigh 205 or less. Neither 200-plus back weighs more than 205.

This is a very good example of the type of program Bear Bryant believes in. Over the years it can be seen that he always stresses tor added.

According to reports from Bastrop, the Rams' field and stadium sustained no damage.

Tallulah's head coach Racer Holstead said Friday night that if the "rain would stop now and the sun come out tomorrow, the field should be in pretty good shape."

The only teams to play Friday night in North Louisiana were Airline and Fairpark in Shreveport, and Natchitoches at Mansfield.

Two Twin Cities teams will see action tonight in games that were postponed Friday. The West Monroe Rebels host Jonesboro-Hodge at 7:30 and Ouachita travels to Bolton in Alexandria for another 7:30 tilt.

The four other Monroe teams, Neville, Wossman, Southside and St. Frederick,

Don Drysdale Notches 19th; Ties Hit Mark

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Don Drysdale gained his 19th victory and tied a National League record by hitting his seventh homer of the season as the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated Houston 5-2 Friday night.

The victory gave the Dodgers sole possession of second place and kept them one-half game behind the first-place San Francisco Giants, who defeated Chicago 5-2.

Two errors in the Houston outfield gave the Dodgers three unearned runs and helped Drysdale, 19-12, and Ron Perranoski best Astros right-hander Robin Roberts, 4-2.

John Roseboro was aboard with a single when Drysdale hit a third-inning homer, tying the league record for home runs by a pitcher. Drysdale also hit seven in 1958 and jointly holds the mark with the Dodgers' Don Newcombe, who hit seven in 1955.

Wall Bond and Jim Wynn hit fourth-inning homers for Houston, tying the score in the fourth. However, singles by Roseboro and Drysdale, coupled with an error by Wynn in center field, gave the Dodgers an unearned run in the fifth.

In the sixth, Ron Fairly was aboard with a two-out single when right fielder Rusty Staub dropped Jim Lefebvre's fly for a three-base error. Fairly scored on the play and Lefebvre scored on a single by Wes Parker.

Ashe Bombs Emerson In Four

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Arthur Ashe Jr., a scrawny Richmond-born Negro youngster from Los Angeles, bombed the world's top amateur player, Roy Emerson of Australia, into defeat 13-11, 6-4, 10-12, 6-2, Friday and shot into the men's semifinals of the National Tennis Championships.

The 22-year-old UCLA student thrilled a West Side Tennis Club gallery of 11,000 with some of the flashiest stroke-making seen on the old center court in years and made it the brightest day for American tennis in a decade.

The match lasted 2 hours, 58 minutes and the crowd gave Ashe a 15-minute standing ovation after it ended.

The United States hasn't had a men's champion of its own since Tony Trabert in 1955, and Ashe looms as the man likely to break the overseas domination.

His rival in the semifinals today will be Manuel Santana, the 27-year-old Spanish Davis Cup ace who eliminated Antonio Palafox of Mexico 6-3, 9-7, 6-1.

Palafox got a bad call on an apparently winning shot in the 12th game of the second set while holding set point at 6-5, and his heart and spirit died after that. The other semifinal sends Rafael Osuna of Mexico, against 6-foot-3 Cliff Drysdale of South Africa, who Thursday eliminated the top American, Dennis Ralston.

There was no lack of spirit in the case of young Ashe, who showed utter disdain for the big guns of the tough Queenslanders who had rocketed to the world's top with victories in the Australian and Wimbledon Championships.

Emerson was defender here, seeded No. 1 and a top-heavy favorite to repeat for his third U.S. crown.

Emerson's usually reliable and explosive service failed him in the clutches.

He double-faulted 17 times, at game point in the first game of the first set, again in the third game of the second set when he dropped his delivery, and four times in the fourth set, causing him to drop his delivery in the first and fifth games.

Ashe had seven double-faults, the most costly at set point in the third set.

END MIKE Powell will be in the Panther lineup tonight when Sterlington goes to Wisner for a contest which was originally scheduled for Friday but was washed out by Hurricane Betsy. Mike is serving as co-captain for Sterlington during his senior year.

Romas Hits Phillies Past Cards, 5-4

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Cookie Romas' ground single drove in John Herrnstein in the 12th inning and gave the Philadelphia Phillies a 5-4 victory over St. Louis Friday night.

Pat Corrales got the winning rally started with a two-out double in the 12th, and Herrnstein went in to run. He promptly raced to third on a wild pitch by Hal Woodeshick. Tony Taylor followed with a walk.

Rojas then smashed a hard grounder up the middle. Shortstop Dick Groat made a diving stop but was too late trying for a force at second base as Herrnstein scored.

The Cardinals tied the score in the eighth inning, scoring on singles by Bob Tolan and Lou Brock around a sacrifice.

Rains Cause Cancellation At Raceway

Tonight's drag race show scheduled for Harmon Raceway has been cancelled because of damaging winds and rains, Harmon director Jean Bayles reported Friday night.

"We hate to call them off," Mrs. Bayles said, "but after seeing the damage out there we have no choice."

Six trees were blown down at the track and it will have to be cleaned up before we can operate."

Harmon Raceway is located approximately six miles south of Monroe off the Alexandria Highway.

Mrs. Bayles added that the regularly scheduled races will resume next week end.

C. O. Finley's At It Again: Satch Paige Joins Athletics

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Fabulous Leroy (Satchel) Paige, whose baseball pitching feats both legendary and real began in Chattanooga, Tenn., in 1926, signed a contract with the Kansas City Athletics Friday.

At a hastily called news conference Satchel, still tall and lean at 193 pounds, solemnly signed a contract for General Manager Hank Peters after agreeing on terms in a telephone agreement with owner Charles O. Finley in Chicago.

"I thought they were kidding," said ageless Satchel, whose birth date is recorded in the baseball register as July 7, 1906. There are many who insist you could put Satchel's birth date back into the last century and be closer than the 59 years in the records.

But Satchel, confronted with the 1906 date, asked: "Who did the research on that? Whoever he was, he knows more than I do. I'm a shade over 50."

"I think I can still pitch and help this club," he added. "So what difference does it make what my age is if I can?"

It is probable that he can help because Finley announced that he was planning a big Satchel Paige appreciation day for Sept. 25 and that Satchel would be the starting pitcher against the Boston Red Sox.

With the A's seasonal home attendance slightly over 500,000, a Satchel Paige day in his home town on a Saturday night certainly can do no harm to the Athletics in last place since 36 games from the top.

Would Satchel pitch for the A's prior to the Sept. 25 game, which has been rescheduled as a night contest instead of an afternoon game?

"I'll need a few days to get in really good shape," said Satchel who will be returning to the big leagues after a 12-year absence. "Then I'll do whatever the manager says."

Paige was first brought up to the majors by Bill Veeck to help his Cleveland Indians win the 1948 American League pennant. He last pitched in the majors for the old St. Louis Browns, also owned by Veeck, in 1953.

Airline Battles To Tie Indians

SHREVEPORT (Special) — Rudy Estis and Jim West were almost the whole show here Friday night when they led the Airline Vikings to a surprising 20-20 tie with highly regarded Fair Park.

West and Estis ran for a combined total of 210 yards in the rainy atmosphere of State Fair Stadium.

Indian quarterback John Miller was as good in the air as West and Estis were on the ground, passing for 151 yards and three touchdowns as he hit on eight of ten attempts and kicked two extra points.

Mansfield Takes Opening Victory

MANSFIELD (Special) — Using a big first half rush, class A Mansfield opened its season with a 13-0 victory over double A foe Natchitoches.

Coach John Thompson's Wolverines jumped off to a 7-0 lead in the opening quarter when Bob McAllen rammed in from the three yardline and Chuck Maroney booted the extra point.

McAllen and Maroney were back in the scoring picture in the second frame when Maroney snared a 25-yard pass to get the ball in position for McAllen, who bolted in from the seven.

Sophomore Help Can Swing Balance In Tulane's Favor

By JIM DAWSON
NEW ORLEANS — Tulane, which won three of its last five games in 1964, should have its best football team in 10 years if Coach Tommy O'Boyle's rebuilding program continues to pay dividends.

The Green Wave has only 17 returning lettermen, but 13 of those were either offensive or defensive regulars last season. And there are 47 eager sophomores trying for other positions.

Tulane again faces a rugged schedule — how's Texas and Alabama for openers? — but the Wave has more truly outstanding football players than it has had in many years.

Linebacker Bill Goss and middle guard Leon Verriere, stars of 1964's famed "Posse" defensive unit, are solid all-South-eastern Conference candidates. Other top hands on the Posse are tackle Bill Brown, a 234-pound Shreveport junior who could develop into one of the South's finest, and Don Capretz, linebacker Dick Steigerwald and halfback Carl Crowder.

Heading up the offense is quarterback Dave East, who set Tulane records for passing attempts and completions last season. East ranks among the SEC's best, and sophomore sensation Bobby Duhan looms as a capable replacement and outstanding defensive player.

Tulane's running attack may again be centered around fullback George Smith, the team's leading rusher for the past two years. Smith, a fine power runner, is also a capable blocker. The other offensive backfield positions are wide open, but speedsters Pete Johns and Jim Darnley have the inside track going into fall practice.

Tulane is suspect in the defensive secondary and offensive line, where sophomores will have to come through. One bright light in the offensive line, however, is 235-pound senior tackle Conrad Meyer, a pro prospect who underwent knee surgery in the spring.

Last year's pro-styled offense has been re-designed by new offensive coach John Idzik, who expects to place more emphasis on the running game. Wave coaches call their attack "Multiple T."

Among the fine sophomore candidates are Monroe's Don Johnson, who'll compete for an offensive fullback job, and Jena's Don Smith, who's being groomed as a linebacker. Johnson is a 190-pounder who sparkled at Neville High and Smith is a 192-pounder who was a fine runner at Jena.

"We're going to have to have some help from the sophomores if we're to have a successful season," said O'Boyle. "I think we have some real fine youngsters, too."

Tulane's defense was among the toughest in the South at the end of the 1964 campaign and it should again be the Wave's strong point. The attack should be much better, but it will have to be against this array: Texas, Alabama, Miami, Georgia Tech, Ole Miss, Mississippi State, Vanderbilt, Stanford, Florida and LSU.

Mel Stottlemire Posts 17th Win; Downs Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Mel Stottlemire posted his 17th victory and drove in the lead run with a double as the New York Yankees defeated the Chicago White Sox 3-1 Friday night and knocked them into third place in the American League.

The White Sox absorbed their fourth straight loss and the Baltimore Orioles slipped passed them into second place.

Stottlemire, padding his record to 17-8, scattered eight hits while striking out three and walking three.

Stottlemire's double, following Phil Linz' single, pushed the Yankees ahead 2-1 in the fourth inning.

Mending Defense Goal Of Demons

By EARL C. COULON
NATCHITOCHEs — What's the football picture at the western State College for the upcoming 1965 campaign?

Coming off a 4-5 losing season, the Demons need to do some "fence mending" to keep opposing "varmints" from crossing the goal stripe. Last year's edition didn't lack scoring punch, as evidenced by 206 points scored against only 162 for nine opponents. But the Demons were outscored, particularly in two losses, a 36-26 defeat at the hands of speedy Abilene Christian and a late season 37-21 pasting by Southeastern.

Eleven lettermen were figured as lost to the squad for 1965 but three of these may yet join the fold. Twenty-nine lettermen are listed as returnees.

Northwestern plays a nine-game card, meeting five Gulf States Conference rivals, Louisiana College, Pensacola Navy, Ouachita (Ark.) Baptist, and Martin Branch of the University of Tennessee. Three contests are at home, six on the road.

End and tackle are conceded to be best staffed while weaker positions are linebacker and defensive backs. The fullback spot has depth, with Bobby Parker, Claude Patrick, and Harold Petrie returning for action.

A transfer, Malcolm Lewis, Marshall, Tex., is expected to provide help at the quarterback spot, weakened by the loss of veteran Don Beasley. Neal Prather, a great runner while at Bossier, has transferred to Demonville and should bolster the offensive backs situation.

Punting and kickoff chores will again be handled by Wayne Walker, starting his senior year. The Bossier booter is expected to improve on his 37.6 yard average.

Averett Sr. of Shreveport, in an evening ceremony with Dr. D. L. Dykes officiating. Sunburst arrangements of white gladioli, stock and statice before a background of jade foliage, Baker's fern and arched candelabra with glowing white tapers formed the setting for the occasion in First Methodist Church of Shreveport August 28.

The sheath skirt featured lace appliques and jewel embroidery with a circular train attached to the waistline at the back with a self bow. # Miss Wanda Lynn McVay Weds Donald M. Raley

In a candlelight ceremony Friday evening, September 3, in the Newton Baptist Church, Miss Wanda McVay, daughter of Mrs. Velma McVay of Delhi and the late Homer L. McVay became the bride of Donald Raley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Raley of Epps.

The double ring ceremony was performed at 7:00 p.m. by Rev. E. L. Hogan before an arch of entwined ivy and miniature yellow roses. Standing baskets of yellow gladioli and stock were illuminated by tapers in tall candelabra. Nuptial music was provided by Mrs. Edward Thomas as pianist and Mr. Thomas soloist. The wedding music was rendered by Miss Joyce Gibson.

Given in marriage by her uncle, James Harper of Dunn, the bride wore a wedding gown of peau de soie with bell-shaped skirt. The bodice was overlaid with Chantille lace, featuring scalloped neckline and sleeves tapering to lily points over the hands. Her fingertip veil of illusion drifted from a crown of seed pearls and rhinestones with drop pearls completing the tiara. Her bouquet was a cascade of Lily of the Valley and French tulle, centered with a purple throated white orchid. Mrs. Bobby R. Williams of Mangham served her sister as matron of honor. Her dress was street length of mint green peau de soie, featuring rounded neckline, bell-shaped skirt and elbow length sleeves. The head-dress was a Dior bow of the same material attached to the short veil. Matching shoes and white gloves completed the attire. Her bouquet was of yellow French tulle and satin streamers.

Bridesmaids were Misses Shirely Harper and Audrey Neilson, cousins of the bride. Their dresses were street length of yellow peau de soie featuring rounded neckline, bell-shaped skirt and elbow length sleeves. Their headbands of self material were a Dior bow with net attached to the short veil. Matching shoes, white gloves and bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums with green tulle and satin streamers completed their attire.

Candles were lighted by Mike Simpson, cousin of the groom and Ronny Gibson, nephew of the bride.

Julius Raley of Crowville attended his brother as best man. Ushers were Jerry Nelson, cousin of the bride and Jerry Donahue.

Mrs. McVay, mother of the bride, wore a blue dress with beige accessories. The groom's mother was attired in a pink two-piece dress with beige accessories. Both wore corsages of garnet sweetheart roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church social room. The bride's table was covered with an ecru lace cloth under-laid with yellow and decorated with the bouquets of the bride and bridesmaids. The tiered wedding cake was served by Mrs. Jerry Ball. Mrs. Nell Simpson presided at the punch bowl with Mrs. Beth Rihner, sister of the bride, and Mrs. James Harper assisting. Miss Linda Singler registered the guests.

For travel the bride chose a A-line cranberry linen dress with inserts of cranberry lace, and gray accessories. After a short wedding trip to New Orleans the couple will make their home in Epps.

THE LOW-WAISTED SILHOUETTE is favored for college coats this fall. The above is a water repellent mirrette blend with curved body-outlining seams ending in soft side pleating to ease the skirt. The hemline in short, and the coat is worn with a matching hat.

Add Fashions Accents To Basic College Wardrobe

By FLORENCE de SANTIS

The annual fears of college freshmen over what to take in their wardrobes have arisen in part because they see too much fashion these days. Everywhere are pictured way-out, kooky fashions supposedly for the freshman take all, some or none young. Should the innocent of these to college?

A large fashion firm for the young selected a national college fashion board of 12 knowledgeable June grads to help with the wardrobe problem. Their advice? Take basic sportswear classics.

Two skirts, two pullover sweaters, four cardigans, two blouses, one knit top, three pairs pants, two jackets and one jumper—that's all, they said. The rest could be fun and games according to the taste of the girl, of her campus, or the extent of her budget.

Doesn't sound very wild, and it isn't. These are the same basics that college girls have been wearing for years. The difference, however, is the fashion fillip given to these basics.

Take the coat, for instance, which the girls forgot to mention. This year it should be low-waisted, that's certain. It may be done straight and Norfolk style, with a slot-through hip belt. Or it may be belted, curved with seaming that ends in side pleating. Another version curves lightly in a long-torso look until it breaks into a short whirl of pleats.

All these coats are short, even when they're meant to be full-length. The hemline length is important to the young this fall, under the influence of all those Paris and London designers who have been raising skirts. So coat, suits skirts and sportswear separates, jumpers and date dresses all are at least slightly above the knee.

DEAR ABBY

He Snores, You Snore Get Evidence On Tape

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: There is nothing new about my problem, but that doesn't help me. My husband snores. He can snore in any position—on his back, his stomach or on either side. If he happens to fall asleep sitting up, he snores that way. It's not just an ordinary snore, either. He has variations. He grunts, groans, mumbles, whistles and snorts. Once I woke up at three a.m. wondering who was mowing our lawn. Another time I dreamed that a tugboat was stuck in our bedroom and was signaling for help. Sometimes he snores so loud he wakes himself up. It's not a matter of his being overly tired. He snores when we're on vacation, too. This has been going on for 15 years, Abby. I can't remember the last night I've had a good night's sleep. When I threaten to go into another bedroom, he says he didn't marry me to sleep alone. I've begged him to see a doctor, thinking maybe he has polyps in his nose, but he won't try any of the remedies that have helped others. I am through arguing. He won't even admit he snores. He says I snore. Can you help me? SNORER'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: First, your husband must be convinced that he snores. If you don't own a tape recorder, borrow or rent one. But get the evidence. After confronting him with the proof it will be easier to get him to a doctor. If the doctor can't help him, you have your choice of beeswax ear plugs or separate bedrooms. If reliable statistics were available on the number of married couples who sleep alone because of snoring, they would astound you.

DEAR ABBY: I don't mean to be disrespectful toward anyone's religion, but can you tell me how a priest, who has never been married, can tell married people how to get along with each other? Also, how can he give advice on problems of love and romance when he hasn't had any up-to-date experience along those lines? Thank you. CURIOUS
DEAR CURIOUS: Most priests have had special training enabling them competently to counsel those who need help in all areas of human relations. A doctor doesn't need a boil on his neck to cure one.

ing enabling them competently to counsel those who need help in all areas of human relations. A doctor doesn't need a boil on his neck to cure one.

ing her three-year-old daughter, she should have overlooked it. "Miss" would have been correct.

DEAR READERS: I am conducting a survey on what I suspect is PUBLIC ENEMY NUMBER ONE TO NOCTURNAL TOGETHERNESS—snoring! If your husband (or wife) snores, send me a postcard in care of ABBY, BOX 69700, Los Angeles, California. Simply state how long you've put up with it and what you have finally done about it. You need not sign your name. Your cooperation will be deeply appreciated.

Dear Heloise: I always keep a large shaker of salt mixed with a small amount of pepper in the kitchen. Most foods which require salt also require pepper, so this two-in-one method has two advantages: First, instead of having to pick up two shakers to season the "vittles," I pick up only one. Multiply how many times you pick up that kitchen salt shaker, and you can visualize how many hours you will save in your lifetime! Secondly, I'm a little absent-minded, and sometimes forget whether or not I have salted

What was the cost to the taxpayers for the marble front recently added to the Ouachita Parish School Board office on Bry in Monroe? How was this decision reached?

The decorative treatment referred to is at the building's front and side entrances. The material used is not actually marble, but highly polished granite which presents a marble-like appearance.

Officials report that it was installed at the suggestion of the project architect to add to the appearance of the building, and was approved by the entire Ouachita Parish School Board, after committee approval, as part of the total construction project.

Figures show that the cost of the work was $6,418.

Recently I heard of a pupil that was expelled from a high school for an indefinite time. Is that possible? How long can a child be expelled? His offense was right serious.

School officials report that principals can suspend pupils for a three-day period for each offense. School boards can expel indefinitely or permanently, depending on the seriousness of the offense.

Did the Ouachita Parish School Board break the Supreme Court's ruling when it opened the first day of school in a church building? I understand the teachers saluted the flag and prayers were said in the presence of hand pupils. My understanding is that the teachers were forced to come to the church building or their pay would be cut.

Supt. Milton C. Hall says the teachers workshop referred to was held in a church gymnasium because it offered ample room and was air conditioned. The location was selected by a committee of teachers.

Officials do not believe that any violation of the law of separation of church and state occurred.

As to cutting pay, the workshop was held on school days, considered as teaching days for pay purposes, and obligating teachers to attend in the same sense they must attend for days of classroom teaching.

Under what right does a school board director have the use of tax supported school facilities to hold "band camps," for which he charges a set fee?

Officials compare the type of program mentioned with regular summer school, in the sense that it exists for the convenience of students in pursuing their studies and is "strictly voluntary."

"The camps are set up by band directors on their own time and no part of the expenses are realized from school boards. All the director's compensation come through student fees."

Why are the grounds around West Monroe High and the junior high kept mowed and beautiful, while the grounds around Mitchell School and the colored elementary school are left unmowed from the time school is out till the starting of the next school year?

Ouachita Asst. Supt. P. B. Mangum, former principal at West Monroe High School, reports that the high school grounds are mowed by the school's own equipment, purchased by the school from concession funds.

He says that summer schools are held at the schools mentioned, so the grounds must be kept. A maintenance man also

How To Keep Well

By Doctor Van Dellen

(THE TONGUE'S STORY)

The tongue is so sensitive that it overestimates the size of a tiny cavity or raspberry seed caught between the teeth. On the other hand it makes accurate comparisons when the objects or cavities are more than three-eighths of an inch in size. The surface contains so many delicate nerve endings that it can distinguish two needle points that are only one-sixteenth inch apart.

The tongue is surrounded by more bacteria than any organ in the body. It has been estimated that the healthy oral cavity averages 750 million organisms in every 15 drops of saliva. These include staph, strep, coliform bacteria, lactobacilli, clostridium, molds, yeast, and certain spirochetes. Tests have disclosed streptococci and pneumococci in the mouth of a healthy infant two days after birth. These microbes are harmless provided resistance is maintained. The majority are swallowed and destroyed by the gastric juice. The tongue rarely becomes infected even though constantly bathed in germs. On the other hand, many of these are potential troublemakers, especially when passed along thru a human bite.

Most of us associate the tongue with taste, but it has many other functions. It is an important organ of speech and creates the air current used to suck liquids into the mouth. The structure also guides food between the uppers and lowers and steers it into the throat. Now and then it is forced to help chew when the teeth are lost.

When is State Fair going to be this year, and is it always in Shreveport? The Louisiana State Fair is always held in Shreveport. Dates for this year's fair are Oct. 21 through 31.

If a person is a life-long resident of Ouachita Parish and has lived in the same ward for years, should he or she decide to seek public office (Police Jury) in another ward, how long must he reside in that particular ward before he would be eligible as a candidate?

To run for public office, a person must be a qualified elector. Ward residence required to become a qualified elector is three months.

It is no secret that physicians today spend less time examining the tongue. The horse-and-buggy doctor often started his examination with "Let me see your tongue!" and used the organ as an index of health and a mirror of the digestive tract. There are a number of internal disorders leading to changes in the tongue's appearance, but other more reliable clues usually co-exist. Most of the coating that bothers people is normal. It takes place at night when the cleansing action of saliva and chewing is quiescent.

MULTIPLE TUMORS

Mrs. T. writes: I have fatty tumors of different sizes over various parts of my body and was told I have Von Recklinghausen's disease. Can you explain this to me?

REPLY

In Von Recklinghausen's disease, tumors stem from nerve tissue and are removed surgically. Fatty tumors (lipomas) come from fat. When many exist, the condition is known as multiple lipomatosis.

WARNING SIGNAL

M. R. G. writes: My condition was diagnosed as mucous colitis. I was put on a bland diet and want to know if something more serious will occur if I don't follow instructions.

REPLY

No, except this type of colitis is a warning signal of fatigue or being under too much tension, anxiety, or stress. Take the hint and calm your mind and the bowel will follow suit.

MASS TESTING

R. U. writes: What are multiple screening tests?

REPLY

Testing of large segments of the population to determine the status of the lungs, heart, kidneys, blood, and other aspects of health. The screening procedures include X-rays, blood counts, electrocardiograms, and tests for glaucoma, syphilis, and diabetes.

EDEMA SUBSIDES

P. G. writes: Does the swelling that follows removal of a breast for cancer become normal or does it subside?

REPLY

It subsides. Today's Health Hint — Physical and mental rest are equally important.

Communist China's Daily Propaganda India's Venom

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Venom for India, Vitriol for the United Nations, Vituperation for American and Soviet leaders.

That is the daily output of Red China's propaganda these days.

Peking's basic complaints are these: The Americans interfere with wars which can capture territory for communism; the United Nations tries to stop such wars; the Russians are too frightened of the consequences to support brushfire conflicts.

Two wars are going on in Asia now, and a third may be brewing between Malaysia and Red China's enthusiastic friends, the Indonesians. Peking has been shy about becoming involved directly in any of these.

Red China's leaders seem to feel Peking ultimately will reap the profit from any turbulence short of general Asian war. Thus, they exhibit hot anger at Moscow's caution. As it did in Nikita Khrushchev's case, Peking now predicts humiliating downfall for the present Kremlin leaders.

"The Khrushchev revisionists can only come to an ignominious end," declared Lo Jue-ching, Chinese army chief of staff, a few days ago.

According to Lo, the present Soviet leaders are guilty of "simply seeking to live in docile peace, wanting to dominate the world jointly with the U.S. nuclear overlord." He accuses the Russians of forbidding people, meaning the Communists, to make revolution by warning "nonsensically" that "sparks of national liberation wars, if not put out immediately, will certainly lead to a nuclear world war."

To Peking, Soviet leaders are "traitors of people's war," working "hand in glove with the U.S. imperialists, doing their utmost to spread arguments against people's war and overtly or covertly trying to undermine it."

The Kremlin leaders, predicted Lo, will be swept from the stage of history along with their "theory of unprincipled peaceful coexistence."

It sometimes is difficult to say whether Soviet or American leaders fear worse at the hands of Peking's propagandists. "Khrushchevism" is a great sign in Red Chinese eyes, but they have discovered another among the Americans: "Johnsonism." Basically it means they accuse President Johnson of wanting to dominate the world and of stopping at nothing to do so. He, as the late John F. Kennedy before him, is pictured as "the most ferocious enemy of the world's people."

Peking heaps scorn on the United Nations. It angrily denounced any suggestion that the United Nations has a place in a Viet Nam settlement. Now it has a new point of attack on the basis of the war over Kashmir between India and Pakistan. How, it asks, can the United Nations presume to settle that war when it showed "perfidy" all along in favor of India?

"It is inconceivable that the United Nations, which has been unfair for 18 years, should suddenly become fair," says the New China News Agency.

Soviet help to India makes the Red Chinese furious.

"The Khrushchev revisionists have vied with the United States in granting money and arms to India," says the agency. "The Indian reactionaries have become their favorites."

Couple Dies In Accident In Richland

DELHI (Special) — The 17th and 18th traffic fatalities of the year in Richland Parish were recorded Friday with the deaths of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Reed of Foreman, Ark., killed in an auto accident four miles west of Delhi.

Investigating state troopers said Mrs. Reed died at the scene. Her husband was dead on arrival at St. Francis Hospital in Monroe.

Officers said the Reed auto collided with a car carrying Mr. and Mrs. John Stanley, believed to be from Dallas, Tex. The Stanley couple was in satisfactory condition at St. Francis Hospital. He was treated for a broken leg and Mrs. Stanley for a broken arm.

Police said the Stanley vehicle was traveling east on Hwy. 80 and attempted to pass two or three cars at once. The Reed car was approaching and the Stanley auto attempted to get back into the right-hand lane but went out of control, police said.

Troopers said the Stanley car skidded sideways into the Reed car.

The accident occurred around 10:30 a.m. during a rainstorm, but officers said the accident was not attributed to the weather.

Roosevelt Wins Senate Approval Of U.N. Position

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. James Roosevelt, D-Calif., who must give up his seat in Congress to take the job, won Senate confirmation Friday of his nomination to a United Nations post.

Approval was by voice vote. Just when Roosevelt will resign from Congress and take over his new duties as U.S. representative on the U.N. Economic and Social Council is still to be announced. He has indicated he would not hurry it.

Roosevelt's successor in the House will be chosen in a special election in his 26th — Los Angeles County — District.

Also confirmed by voice vote were: Raymond A. Hare, a career diplomat now ambassador to Turkey, for promotion to assistant secretary of state for Near Eastern and South Asian affairs.

Charles Frankel, philosophy professor at Columbia University in New York City, to become assistant secretary of state for educational and cultural affairs.

Dr. Gustav Ranis of Orange, Conn., to be assistant administrator for program coordination in the Agency for International Development.

Bernard Cagorin of the Treasury Department, to be U.S. alternate executive director of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development.

Charles W. Yost of New York City, for promotion to deputy U.S. representative to the United Nations and the Security Council with the rank of ambassador.

Crop Production Prospects Up During August

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department said Friday crop production prospects increased nearly one percent during August to a record high of four per cent above the previous high set in 1963.

This increase was reflected in a survey even though dry spots reduced output in some areas. In its September production report, the department said feed grain prospects continue at a record level. Soybeans, rice and peanuts are among other crops setting new production levels this year.

100 School Districts Have Not Qualified

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Office of Education is weighing what to do next about nearly 100 school districts that have not qualified for federal aid under the 1964 Civil Rights Act, a spokesman said Friday.

The law requires that school districts, to be eligible for aid, must submit documentation that they will conduct their activities without racial or other discrimination. The government has been prodding the states and their districts to qualify in time for the school year just starting.

The 100 districts include 92 from which no responses have been received, the spokesman said. Other districts have said they intend to submit data of voluntary compliance or are involved in court proceedings and intend to submit court orders when they are handed down.

The spokesman said some districts which have not filed data do not intend to participate in federal aid programs. But the current thinking is that hearings will have to be ordered for them to provide a legal basis for formal findings that they are not eligible.

The spokesman would not identify the individual districts nor list the states. He said about half the 17 Southern and border states are involved.

As of Friday, the office said it had accepted voluntary desegregation plans, statements of compliance, and desegregation court orders from 4,535 of the 5,044 districts in the 17 states, or 89.5 per cent. In addition 127 plans had been previously accepted and another 63 had been agreed upon in principle. Should all these be formally accepted it would mean that 93.5 per cent of the districts have filed acceptable data.

Both the assistant secretary of welfare, James M. Quigley, and the commissioner of education, Francis Keppel, expressed satisfaction with the way school desegregation is proceeding in the Southern and border states, on the basis of preliminary reports.

Both said preliminary reports indicated there has been wide spread acceptance of desegregation under the alternatives allowed: freedom of choice of schools for pupils, geographic attendance areas, or a combination of the two.

Quigley said it appears that the freedom of choice procedure is working well.

This alternative has been criticized by some civil rights leaders since announcement of a statement of general policies last April outlining requirements under the alternatives.

The critics said the freedom of choice procedure puts an unwarranted burden on Negro parents and children that should be a duty of local school authorities.

Both Quigley and Keppel said progress of the entire program is going to be kept under continual review to determine whether any changes in policy may be needed.

A survey is now under way of a representative sample of 600 school districts.

The survey is to determine how many Negroes are enrolled in desegregated schools, how many schools have been desegregated since last year, and how Negro teachers are assigned in the schools in the districts.

Negro Children Enter Boston's White Schools

BOSTON (UPI) — Negro children were enrolled peacefully Friday at six predominantly white schools while the Massachusetts education commissioner called for a halt to spreading refusal by Negroes to attend their own neighborhood schools.

The only hitch in an expanded "Operation Exodus," a mass movement from Negro to white schools, was at a white school where the Negroes were barred, but only temporarily.

Negro boys and girls sat down without incident at empty desks in five other schools, including two which were a target for the first time since the movement started Thursday.

Education Commissioner Owen B. Kiernan appealed to Negro parents and civil right workers to "hold your fire" until the superintendent of schools worked out a solution to alleged racial imbalance and overcrowding in Negro classrooms.

Couple Dies In Accident In Richland

DELHI (Special) — The 17th and 18th traffic fatalities of the year in Richland Parish were recorded Friday with the deaths of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Reed of Foreman, Ark., killed in an auto accident four miles west of Delhi.

Investigating state troopers said Mrs. Reed died at the scene. Her husband was dead on arrival at St. Francis Hospital in Monroe.

Officers said the Reed auto collided with a car carrying Mr. and Mrs. John Stanley, believed to be from Dallas, Tex. The Stanley couple was in satisfactory condition at St. Francis Hospital. He was treated for a broken leg and Mrs. Stanley for a broken arm.

Police said the Stanley vehicle was traveling east on Hwy. 80 and attempted to pass two or three cars at once. The Reed car was approaching and the Stanley auto attempted to get back into the right-hand lane but went out of control, police said.

Troopers said the Stanley car skidded sideways into the Reed car.

The accident occurred around 10:30 a.m. during a rainstorm, but officers said the accident was not attributed to the weather.

Roosevelt Wins Senate Approval Of U.N. Position

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. James Roosevelt, D-Calif., who must give up his seat in Congress to take the job, won Senate confirmation Friday of his nomination to a United Nations post.

Approval was by voice vote. Just when Roosevelt will resign from Congress and take over his new duties as U.S. representative on the U.N. Economic and Social Council is still to be announced. He has indicated he would not hurry it.

Roosevelt's successor in the House will be chosen in a special election in his 26th — Los Angeles County — District.

Also confirmed by voice vote were: Raymond A. Hare, a career diplomat now ambassador to Turkey, for promotion to assistant secretary of state for Near Eastern and South Asian affairs.

Charles Frankel, philosophy professor at Columbia University in New York City, to become assistant secretary of state for educational and cultural affairs.

Dr. Gustav Ranis of Orange, Conn., to be assistant administrator for program coordination in the Agency for International Development.

Bernard Cagorin of the Treasury Department, to be U.S. alternate executive director of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development.

Charles W. Yost of New York City, for promotion to deputy U.S. representative to the United Nations and the Security Council with the rank of ambassador.

North Florida Has At Least 3 Dead

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI)—Choppy gulf waters stirred up by the passage of Hurricane Betsy killed three persons, including a woman found lashed to a 14-foot outboard motorboat, and left seven missing late Friday.

The backlash of Betsy did little wind damage to Florida's Panhandle but rough water took its toll in lives and property.

Dead was Mrs. Theodore Leggett of Perry, missing since Monday along with her husband and Mr. and Mrs. Otis Pitts, also Perry. The four friends left Ezell Beach about 22 miles south of their home on a fishing trip Monday and their boat wasn't seen again until the pilot of a search plane spotted the capsized craft about a mile offshore midday Friday.

Taylor County sheriff Maurice Linton said Mrs. Leggett's body was found tied to the overturned boat with an anchor rope. Floating nearby was the top of an ice chest which showed signs of burns. Searchers who towed the craft to shore speculated the fishing party might have tried to improve a signal flare.

Linton said the search was continuing south along the coast for others in the fishing party but there was little hope they would be found alive.

Writ Of Habeas Corpus Refused

Judge Holland said he neither condoned nor condemned Brown for writing the book but did not wish to disturb the status of the case which is now being appealed.

The state had contended that the book was written after the murder trial and therefore could not affect it.

Defense attorney Phil Burleson read a passage from the unpublished Brown manuscript in which Brown wrote that if he made any error it was in permitting television cameras in the courtroom to record the verdict.

Burleson asked Judge Brown if that was correct, and Brown replied that it was.

At the time of the trial, Brown said his reasoning was that once the jury reached a decision, presence of the cameras in the courtroom could not affect the trial.

Burleson also quoted a letter Brown wrote to his publishers, Holt, Rinehart and Winston of New York, on March 12, 1965, in which he asked their indulgence in the delay in delivering the manuscript.

Burleson also said he was angry because the court stenographers had copyrighted the trial transcript, portions of which he has used in the book.

Brown voluntarily withdrew from the case earlier this year.

The charges against the individuals could bring a total of 130 years' prison terms upon conviction, an assistant U.S. attorney said.

Individuals named in the 26-count indictment were William Hamling, Palm Springs, Calif., identified as publisher of Corinth Publications and Reed Enterprises of San Diego, Calif.; Richard Arno Yerxa, San Diego, president of the Corinth and Reed companies; Mrs. Shirley R. Lonsdale, identified as owner of New-Cal Publications, of Gardena, Calif.

Companies other than Reed and Corinth named in the indictment were New-Cal and the printing firm owned by Stephens.

Assistant U.S. Atty. Morton Susman said Yerxa has already been taken into custody and was being held under $10,000 bond in Houston.

JACK RUBY, left, talks briefly with one of his attorneys, Sam Houston Clinton, while awaiting the opening of the second day of testimony in Dallas Friday. The hearing is being held to determine if District Judge Joe B. Brown disqualified himself by writing a book on the case. If Judge Brown should be disqualified, the death sentence given Ruby for the slaying of accused assassin Lee Harvey Oswald would be voided and a new trial held. (AP Wire-photo)

King Would Let Red China Join United Nations

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., in a talk Friday with U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, urged a reversal of United States policy toward admission of Communist China to the United Nations.

At a news conference after an hour's visit with Goldberg, King expressed concern about recent belligerent statements coming from Communist China, but said it was time for the United States to "seriously consider" its negative attitude toward giving Peking a U.N. seat.

The civil rights leader, who termed the talk a "fruitful and amicable discussion," also urged the United States to refrain from bombing North Viet Nam in order to establish a basis for negotiating a settlement of the Viet Nam war.
